WITNESS IN GLASS CASE IS SENTENCED TO JAIL!

EXPLOSION ON U. S. BATTLESHIP

EXTRA! There are 6 dead and 16 injured on the Georgia.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Word has just reached the Navy Department of an explosion on the battleship Georgia this morning, by which seventeen persons were injured, among them being Lieutenant Goodrich and Midshipmen Cruse and Goldwaite. Cruse is seriously injured. The accident occurred while the vessel was at target practice in Cape Cod bay, Mass. The department received its information from Rear Admiral Thomas, commanding the second division of the Atlantic fleet. The message was sent from aboard his flagship, the Virginia, and came by wireless telegraph to Highland Light, Mass. The telegram was as follows: "Accident on Georgia 10 o'clock, 17 injured, 8 seriously. Eight-inch charge ignited in the after super-imposed turret. Lieutenant Goodrich and Midshipmen Cruse and Goldthwaite injured, Cruse seriously. None dead yet."

At 4:05 p. m. a wireless message was received at the navy yard from the Georgia which was coming up the harbor, saying:

"Five dead."

The dispatches which came to the navy yard did not indicate that any damage was done to the battleship and it was believed that the result of the gun explosion probably did not extend beyound the turret.

This was the last practice for the vessels of the fleet, after which they were to go to the Brooklyn navy yard.

Four vessels, including the Georgia and the Virginia, had comprised the fleet up to this week, when the Rhode Island, joined them.

TO INVESTIGATE.

A board of investigation has been ordered. Will send the Georgia to the Boston navy yard at once for transfer of the injured to a hospital. Will wire the names of injured immediately on receiving information."

The Georgia is commanded by Henry McCrea. The Georgia is one of the newest battleships of the navy and has been in commission about ten months. Lieutenant Charles Goodrich, of the injured, was appointed to the navy from Cincinnati in 1897. He is a son of Rear Admiral Goodrich, now in command of the New York navy yard.

Midshipman John T. Cruse was born in Kentucky and appointed to the navy from Nebraska. He has been attached to the Georgia since October last.

Midshipman Faulkner Goldthwaite is from Connecticut and was appointed to the navy in June, 1903. He has been attached to the Georgia only two months.

The two wounded officers and sailors will be taken to the hospital at Chelsea, Mass. Immediately upon hearing of the disaster Acting Secretary Newberry sent directions to the hospital authorities that everything be done to care properly for the sick and wounded. At the same time he sent a telegram to the ship's officers expressing his condolences over the sad affair.

Another report from the Georgia is to the effect that Lieutenant Goodrich's injuries are confined to the right eye and are not serious. Cruse and Goldthwaite are, however, in a serious condition.

A long-distance telephone message received from the commander of the Boston navy yard at half past four o'clock this afternoon reports that Midshipman Cruse and five men of the Georgia are dead as a result of injuries received.

The increase in values is due to the unexampled prosperity of the past year, and many thousands of people who have made their homes here during the past year, also the large increase in business houses and manufacturers who have contributed toward the result. There has been a marked activity along all lines of manufacturing industries and corporate interests generally who have very much enlarged the scope of their business as well as increasing the capacity of their plants."

PHELAN MAY BE NAMED AS MAYOR

JAMES D. PHELAN

Report That Supervisors Will Appoint Boxton's Successor Late This Afternoon.

(TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENCE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15. — Dr. Charles Boxton is still mayor of San Francisco, but his successor may be appointed at any hour by the graft prosecutors.

Several names are suggested as possible successors to Boxton, among them being James D. Phelan, Michael Casey, Edward J. le Brenton, F. W. Dohrmann and H. U. Brandenstein.

It is known positively that Phelan has been asked to accept the mayoralty and that he has refused. However, it is declared in some quarters that Phelan, seeing that suitable candidates are as scarce as honest supervisors in San Francisco, will not longer dodge the issue.

The graft prosecution is desirous of securing for mayor a man who is acceptable to the labor interests and Phelan is not that man, argue many politicians. And men from the ranks of labor mentioned for mayor do not seem to be pleasing to the interests of capital.

There is a tip here that at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors this afternoon the graft prosecution whip will snap, that Boxton will resign and that a new mayor will be appointed. Who? That's the question.

E. J. Zimmer Is Found Guilty of Contempt of Court

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—A bomb was exploded in the camp of the bribery prosecution this morning shortly after the resumption of Louis Glass' trial. Emile J. Zimmer who, like Glass, is vice-president of the Pacific States Telephone Company, was called to the stand by Assistant District Attorney Heney and refused to be sworn or to testify.

On his testimony the prosecution depended to establish the vital claim that Glass approved the disbursement of the $50,000 bribery moneys allegedly paid to the Supervisors by Agent T. V. Halsey, $5000 of which Mayor Boxton has testified to accepting. Zimmer was sentenced to five days' imprisonment for contempt of court.

Zimmer Gives Reasons for Action

When Mr. Zimmer came to the front of the synagogue in responce to the calling of his name he turned from the clerk who was about to administer the oath and said to Judge Lawlor: "Meaning no disrespect to the court, I have decided not to be sworn. My reason is that the Grand Jury has seen fit to indict some gentlemen without sufficient evidence and therefore to protect myself I have decided not to take the stand."

Intense silence reigned in the great audience room for part of a minute. This was to the prosecution a bolt out of the blue. Then Assistant District Attorney Heney sprang to his feet.

Heney Surprised at Zimmer's Move

"This witness," he said in a loud voice, "was advised when he was before the Grand Jury that we did not consider his testimony was such that it would tend to subject him to prosecution for a felony. In view of that fact we consider his conduct at this time as highly improper, and we ask that he be instructed to take the oath."

Delmas interposed an objection to "the district attorney making any official statement in the presence of the jury unless he first be placed under oath."

Heney replied: "I'm acting under my official oath at all times."

"That," retorted Delmas, "does not entitle you to present before this jury a statement of your valuation of this witness' testimony."

BELIEVE SCHMITZ HAS HIDDEN MAYOR'S SEAL

District Attorney Searches High and Low for Instrument—Thought to Be at Ingleside Jail.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—Eugene E. Schmitz has made away with the Mayor's seal. At least, it is missing, and the District Attorney has a shrewd suspicion that it is among the effects which the convicted ex-Mayor conveyed to his new home in the Ingleside jail. Without the Mayor's seal no appointment made by the Mayor is valid, so Mayor Boxton will be handicapped if he attempts to name any public officials.

The Mayor's seal is kept in the Mayor's office. It must not be confounded with the Great Seal, which is affixed to ordinances and is kept in the office of the clerk of the Board of Supervisors. When Mayor Boxton and District Attorney Langdon appeared at the Mayor's office and carried away all the official furniture to the City Hall, the Mayor's seal was not among it. Search was made high and low, but the seal could not be found.

Suspicion pointed to the Ingleside jail as the most probable place where the Mayor's seal might be found, and the District Attorney, after investigating, has come to the conclusion that that is just where the instrument reposes. It will be very difficult to recover it, as Sheriff O'Neil will undoubtedly resist any attempt to search the premises. Of course, a new seal can be cast, but that takes time. It would appear that Eugene E. Schmitz has succeeded in a petty way in annoying his enemies by carrying off this instrument, which, to Schmitz, is now nothing more than a bit of junk reminding him of other days.

WITNESS IN GLASS CASE IS SENTENCED TO JAIL

be sworn; that he could only bring his refusal to the attention of the court after the oath had been administered.

"The witness will be sworn. Then we will determine his attitude," ruled Judge Lawlor.

Clerk Martin administered the oath to Zimmer and the prosecutions' most important prospective witness took the stand.

"What position do you occupy with the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company?" Heney asked.

"Perhaps you had best begin by asking the witness his name," Judge Lawlor suggested.

"What is your name?" asked Heney.

"Emile J. Zimmer."

"What position do you occupy with the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company?"

"I am a vice president of that corporation."

"How long have you been so employed?"

"Your honor," replied Zimmer, turning to Judge Lawlor, "I refuse to answer—meaning no disrespect to the court."

Instructs Witness as to His Rights

Judge Lawlor, opening a copy of the code of legal procedure, said: "The court at this time instructs the witness as to his rights and duties as such. Section 2064 of the code of civil procedure provides that a witness must answer all legal and pertinent questions. Section 2065 provides that he need not answer any question tending to subject him to prosecution on a felony charge or tending to degrade his character unless under the latter provision the question is one directly going to the facts in issue.

"The code of civil procedure defines what acts shall constitute contempt of court and provides punishment therefor not to exceed a fine of $500 or imprisonment in the county jail, not to exceed five days in jail or not to exceed both fine and imprisonment. You are guilty of contempt in the immediate view and presence of the court and are subject to summary punishment. Read the question before the court, Mr. Reporter."

"How long have you so been employed by that corporation?" the stenographer repeated.

Judge Lawlor directed the reporter to read the preceding question, and when Zimmer had replied, "meaning no disrespect to the court, I still refuse to testify," Judge Lawlor said, "The instructions which the court has already given will be attached to the question just read. Upon what grounds do you refuse to testify?"

TO PROTECT HIMSELF.

Zimmer said: "The Grand Jury heretofore has indicted several gentlemen on grounds which seem to be insufficient. Therefore I have taken this stand to protect myself."

"Do you claim that your answer to the question now asked you would tend to subject you to prosecution on a felony charge?"

"No sir, I do not."

"Do you claim that it would degrade your character?"

"No sir, I do not."

"The court instructs you," said Judge Lawlor with perfect composure and in an ordinary tone of voice, "that the question now before the court is a legal and pertinent one and one which you are required to answer and your refusal will constitute contempt of court. Read the question again, Mr. Reporter."

The stenographer re-read the question.

REFUSES TO ANSWER.

"Meaning no disrespect to Your Honor, I still refuse to answer," said Zimmer.

"Have you stated the only ground upon which you refuse to answer," said the court.

"Yes, sir."

In the long pause that ensued every eye in the dim synagogue was bent on Zimmer. He sat well back in the witness chair, the tips of his fingers joined. His face was slightly flushed and he was not wholly at ease; determination was written largely on his face, but there was not the least expression of defiance.

Judge Lawlor swung about in his revolving chair and looked down from the pulpit at Zimmer, the meanwhile holding a place in the code procedure with his left hand.

"For the refusal of the witness to answer the question before the court," he said, in quiet, almost pleasant accents, "it is ordered that he is and is hereby adjudged guilty of contempt of court, and that as punishment therefor he be committed to the county jail of the city and county of San Francisco, State of California, for a term of five days, and until he answers the said question according to law. The Sheriff will assume custody of the witness and a commitment will be made out by the clerk."

SURRENDERS TO SHERIFF.

Zimmer stepped down from the witness chair and walked quickly to Sheriff O'Neill, who was leaning against the pulpit front.

"Where's your hat?" asked O'Neill.

"I forgot that; I'll get it," said the prisoner, and he walked swiftly to his former seat in the half-way pew. A moment later the Sheriff and Zimmer left the synagogue and went across Webster street to the former's office. Thence he was sent in an automobile in charge of a deputy sheriff to the county jail.

The judgment of contempt imposed by Judge Lawlor was subsequently declared invalid by Attorney Earl Rogers, of Los Angeles, who was in charge of the defense when the officials of the Union Railroads came up for trial. Mr. Rogers said:

"Judge Lawlor in pronouncing sentence made a singular and vital error. He committed Mr. Zimmer to the county jail 'for a term of five days and until the question now before the court is answered.' That is what is known to the law as a 'double alternative' and it renders the judgment absolutely worthless. The law prescribes either a fine not to exceed $500 or imprisonment not to exceed five days, but Judge Lawlor committed Zimmer for five days and until the question is answered. Under this judgment Mr. Zimmer cannot be held."

PLANS OF PROSECUTION.

Between June 12, 1905, and March 15, 1906, the period within which the alleged briberies of Boxton and other supervisors were committed, Zimmer was aditor of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph company.

By his testimony, and so far as is known by his admissions, the prosecution is to prove that Louis Glass ordered Zimmer to turn over to Halsey without the customary record the bribe money to be paid, thus establishing the guilt of Glass.

Frederick W. Eaton, director and secretary-treasurer of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company, was called. He testified that the books of the company were destroyed in the fire.

He said that the president, John I. Sabin, died in October, 1905, and thereafter until Henry T. Scott assumed charge as president, only Glass and Zimmer were recognized as standing in Sabin's place.

"In the months of February and March, 1906," said Eaton, answering an attempt of Heney's to probe the company's disbursements, "I signed checks for between $40,000 and $50,000 in ten thousand dollar amounts. These checks were given to Mr. Zimmer without vouchers. It was not unusual for Mr. Zimmer to send to me for checks. It was customary for him to ask for $5 and $10,000 checks."

"What was Halsey's salary?" asked Heney.

"I am not positive," said Eaton. "I think it was $250 or $300 a month."

"As a matter of fact, didn't you sign a $1250 check for Halsey every month in addition to his salary between June of 1905 and March, 1906?"

Noon adjournment interrupted Delmar objection.

LAWLOR MAKES STATEMENT.

Explaining the effect of the sentence for contempt imposed upon Vice President Zimmer, Judge Lawlor in the noon recess said:

"Under the law the judgment is for 'continuous contempt.' That is, at all times until the jurisdiction of the court is removed by the termination of his trial, the law supposes the question to be asked of the witness and assumes his repeated refusal and consequent contempt until he has answered it. Irrespective of the right afforded by law to institute a contempt trial against Mr. Zimmer, the judgment imposed upon him this morning is sufficient to hold him in the county jail so long as the Glass trial is in progress or until the recalcitrant witness signifies his readiness to answer."

Before the calling of Zimmer the defense recalled to the stand Homer S. King, director of the telephone company and president of the Bank of California. Mr. King reiterated the statements made by him last Saturday disavowing knowledge of the payment of any moneys to Halsey or the authorization by the board of directors of any expenditures to defeat the entrance of the Home Telephone Company into the San Francisco field.

Delmas called Rudolph Spreckels for the immunity contract signed by him, Langdon and Heney in favor of Supervisor, now Mayor Boxton, and it was read into the record.

Assistant District Attorney Heney was asked to make a statement of what effect the refusal of Zimmer to testify would have upon the prosecution, and whether Zimmer will be prosecuted. He replied that he had nothing whatever to say "on either or any point" at this time.

SECOND VISIT OF BURGLAR

Store of Local Merchant Robbed by Thief Who Leaves His Old Clothes.

For the second time within a month the men's furnishing goods store of John H. Somers & Co., at 353 Twelfth street was invaded by a burglar Saturday night. Like his thieving predecessor in crime, he helped himself to a double outfit of new clothes and left his discarded ones in the store. He also took $2.60 in small silver coins which had been left in the cash register as change.

The gurblar of a month ago got $48 in coin. That experience taught Somers & Co. to not leave much money in the till.

BROKEN PANE.

When John H. Somers visited his store about 7 o'clock yesterday morning to turn out the lights which are left burning all night, he discovered that a large pane of window in the rear wall of the store had been broken since the store was locked Saturday night. Further investigation revealed that a burglar had entered the store and helped himself to two suits of outer clothes, suits of silkaline undergarments, a new hat a fine razor and other articles.

The thief did not forget to take the small change in the cash register. He also took two and one-half dozen scarf pins worth a dollar each.

DISCARDS THE OLD.

On the floor were found the No. 7 black slouch hat, the cheap handme-down, well-worn suit of clothes, the stockings and undergarments, which the burglar had discarded. He must have been hard up for wearing apparel at some previous time, because the undershirt he discarded and left in the store was originally intended for woman's wear, being cut low in the neck, with lace trimmings, etc.

Somers & Co.'s store has a court at its rear end with a high board wall on its westerly side, a brick wall southerly, and a high fence dividing it from the next court westerly. It was over this west fence, that the burglar got into Somers & Co.'s court. He must have also climed over a few roofs before reaching the fence. With a brick plucked from the back wall he shattered the pane of common window glass.

PREVIOUS THEFT.

About a month ago, Mr. Somers found a burglar in his store one night when he returned to it accompanied by his wife, after attending a theater. On that occasion the burglar had exchanged his wearing apparel for a new outfit, had stuffed a dressuit case full of new clothes, and taken $48 from the till.

Somer's unexpected return compelled the fellow to run without the dress-suit case. He dropped a teamsters' union card, and a ticket with his initials on it. Despite these clews the fellow was not caught.

Perhaps his easy escape induced his return or the visit of some pal. Police detectives are working on this last burglary, and Mr. Somers intends to constitute himself a sleuth for the occasion and try to land the fellow who broke into his store Saturday night.

That the thief is a local resident is apparent because his discarded rusty suit and old hat he left in the store bear the marks of local storekeepers.

CHICAGO TELEGRAPHERS WAITING FOR ORDERS

Local Union Men Say They Prefer to Eat Hay Than to Return to Work Under the Present Conditions.

NEW YORK, July 15.—A crisis in the dispute between the telegraph companies and their employes is expected to develop today as the result of constant telegraphic communications between the executive board of the telegraphers' union, now in session here, and President Small and Secretary Russell, who are in San Francisco.

A message received from Secretary Russell today directed that the local executive board meet this afternoon and be prepared for any emergency. President Ahern, of the local union, said today that while it looked as if the parting of the ways had been reached, he was using every effort to prevent a strike.

President Small of the Telegraphers' Union of America will hold a conference with Labor Commissioner Neill this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the parlors of the Hotel Metropole.

The conference will be conducted with the strictest secrecy and President Small expects to have a favorable report to make to the meeting of striking telegraphers tomorrow.

If the report is not favorable a strike will be called in Chicago, where the union telegraphers number 2000, all of whom are ready to go out on a moment's notice.

The telegraphers there are sitting on the edge of their chairs waiting for President Small to order them to walk out.

NO GIVING IN.

Assistant Superintendent Miller of the Western Union Telegraph Company said this morning that there was nothing to be settled and no compromise would be made.

"I will stick," he said, "to my original statement that I made at the beginning of the strike, four weeks ago. I will refuse to receive a committee from the union. I will only confer with them individually and act on each application individually and not otherwise.

"The strike in Chicago, if one is called, will cripple us to an extent and cause a little inconvenience for the time being, but the trouble will soon be adjusted as it has been in Oakland and San Francisco. There are plenty of telegraphers to fill the places of the striking operators."

The telegraphers are prepared for the worst. They declared at a meeting this morning at their headquarters in West Oakland, that they would stay out three years and live on hay rather than go back to the Western Union or the Postal Telegraph Company under the old conditions.

PRESENCE IS MYSTERY.

The presence of three members of the national executive board of the Telegraphers' Union appears to be a mystery to the entire fraternity, both here and in the east, in view of the fact that their services were not necessary, inasmuch as the local officials can do nothing only through instructions from New York.

At this time extension of the strike seems immediate.

DENTISTS LOSE MUCH GOLD

Sneak Thieves Clamber Over Transoms and Purloin Yellow Metal.

BERKELEY, July 15.—Sneak thieves, porch climbers and transom workers are busy in Berkeley nowadays and yesterday they made small hauls in the Native Sons building. The thefts were committed some time between 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon and 10 o'clock this morning.

Several dentists seem to have been prey of the thieves, three rooms occupied by them being entered. Dr. A. W. Taylor, of Room 115, lost five gold bridges, valued at $50; gold scraps, $25; gold dust, $25.

In the office of Dr. W. H. Wadsworth, in room No. 129, the thieves secured nothing, as the stock was low.

In room 116, occupied by Dr. Charles S. Duckett, gold valued at $5 was stolen. Entrance was gained to all of the rooms by pushing back the door transom. In leaving the office of Dr. Duckett the thieves left the door unlocked.

SUPERVISORS WANT BOOKS

Assessment Rolls Will be Before the Board Next Wednesday.

The Board of Supervisors met this morning as a Board of Equalization, but transacted no business because the tax-rolls had not been received from the County Assessor.

Supervisor Rowe, who has been temporarily in the chair, caused an adjournment to be taken until Wednesday next at 10 o'clock a. m.

"When were the books to be delivered?" inquired Rowe.

"They were to be ready on the 8th, but the time was extended to the 15th by the State Board of Equalization," said Supervisor Mitchell.

"Do you know that the time was extended?" inquired Rowe.

"The Assessor so stated here," was Mitchell's reply.

"But what I want to know," said Rowe, "has there been any official notification of the extension?"

"The Auditor received notification and that was up here a week ago," answered Mitchell.

"Well, Dalton then has all today to get the books here," said Rowe. "His say so that there has been an extension to me is not worth the air we breathe. You can meet here every day at Mr. Dalton's say so."

It was suggested that the Assessor be telephoned to and asked when he would have the books ready.

Deputy Clerk Homer Wilson acted on the suggestion, and reported that Dalton had said that he was working as hard as he could on the rolls, and that he would turn them over to the board tomorrow or the next day and that the supervisors might adjourn until that time.

"Yes," said Rowe, "we might adjourn sine die."

"I suppose we could do that, but I don't think that we will do anything like that," said Mitchell.

It was then decided to adjourn until next Wednesday morning.

INSANE JAPANESE BATTLES POLICEMAN

BERKELEY, July 15.—Early this afternoon a crazy Japanese took a horse and buggy belonging to Smith & Co. of 2476 Shattuck avenue and drove away with it. He was captured on Shattuck avenue, between Bancroft way and Kittredge street and the rig was returned to its owners.

The Japanese is a well-dressed, good-looking fellow, but dangerously crazy. Policeman Becker was notified by Smith & Co., and it was he who caught the offender at Bancroft way. He got into the buggy and the Japanese began fighting. Becker called a teamster to help him and succeeded in handcuffing the Japanese and locking him up in the tank. It was necessary to keep him in a straightjacket. The officers are unable to get his name.

COURT STOPS QUESTIONS ABOUT CITIZENS' ALLIANCE

D. C. Scott Denies Presence of Orchard in Cripple Creek at Time Set by Former Witness.

BOISE, July 15.—After recess in the redirect examination of the witness Sabin, Prosecutor Hawley, in the Haywood case, began to question the witness as to the reason for organizing the Citizens' Alliance, upon which the defense has laid much stress. He had gone along for some time, when finally the defense objected on the ground of immateriality.

"We think it is immaterial, too," declared Hawley, "and we did not go into it until the defense did."

"The court thinks it is immaterial," said Judge Wood, "and the objection is sustained."

The witness could not recall any criminal act in the Idaho Springs district prior to the summoning of Detectives Gregory and Baird.

D. C. Scott, former special agent of the Florence and Cripple Creek railroad, was called to contradict the testimony of a telegraph operator named Aller, who testified that he saw Harry Orchard in Scott's office in the depot at Cripple Creek in April, 1904. Scott said he left the employ of the company the last of March, 1904, and gave up his office in the depot at that time. He re-entered the service in August, 1904, but did not occupy his former office in the depot until October. He declared he had not seen Aller during the time he was out of the employ of the railroad.

KNEW DETECTIVES.

Cross-examined by Attorney Darrow, Scott said his position was not that of a detective, although some of the duties were similar to those of such officers. He said he was well acquainted at Pinkerton headquarters.

"How many times have you seen Harry Orchard to talk with him?" asked Darrow.

"Six or seven times."

"Where?"

"In the Florence and Cripple Creek depot at Cripple Creek and at the Adams Hotel in Denver."

The first time he met Orchard was when he came voluntarily to tell about the proposed attempt to wreck a train.

CLAIM ORCHARD RELATIVES INSANE OVER MURDERS

"THE FINISH OF THE POKER GAME" POSED FOR BY ORCHARD "FOR FUN"

This photograph of Harry Orchard and Andrew and Peter Christianson was posed for in Salt Lake City in 1900. It was introduced by the defense in the Haywood trial to show Orchard's sensational attitude of mind It is called "The Finish of the Poker Game." Orchard is standing with a smoking revolver in his hand, having just "killed" Andrew Christianson, who has fallen forward on the table, ostensibly for stealing cards Orchard holds a poker hand in his left hand. He has explained in his testimony that the photograph was posed for in a spirit of fun.

READY TO FACE MURDER TRIAL, SAYS FRED H. MAGILL, IN SOUTHERN PRISON

Illinois Prosecutor Declares Banker Slew Wife and Will Surely Be Convicted on His Return---Millions Have Been Pledged for Man's Defense.

CLINTON, Ill, July 15.—For the defense of the family's prodigal, Frederick A. Magill, the Magill millions were yesterday pledged. The accused was arrested yesterday in San Diego, Cal., with his wife and children. All are accused of the murder of Fred Magill's first wife in this city May 30. Lemon & Lemon have been retained as lawyers. The latter are regarded as the shrwedest criminal lawyers in De Witt county. The money has been furnished by Mrs. Samuel Magill on account of the accused man. She lives in a palatial home in this city, costing $800,000.

The message retaining the Lemon brothers was dated San Diego and read as follows:

MAGILL'S MESSAGE.

"Consider yourself retained in our case. Will return voluntarily without extradition.—Fred H. Magill."

This message was preceded by a series of others which passed between Magill and his rich aunt and which assured him of the family's financial support. Earler in the day Magill's father-in-law, Walter Graham, employed John Fuller, for eight years prosecuting attorney, a man of Lincolnesque mold and a remarkable lawyer, to defend his daughter.

Facing this array of legal talent entrenched behind bulwarks of money stands Arthur F. Miller, the young state's attorney, backed by a firm belief that Magill's wife came to her death by foul means. That the battle will be the bitterest ever fought in DeWitt county, that families and business associates will be estranged and that the whole community will be broken into factions is now admitted on all sides.

WILL EXHUME BODY.

Tomorrow or Tuesday Coroner Cyrus Jones will exhume Pet Magill's body for an autopsy. Dr. C. M. Barnes of Decatur, Attorney E. B. Mitchell and some Chicago chemists who have not been decided upon will examine the organs and subject them to a chemical examination for poison. At the coroner's inquest no autopsy was held, in fact, so little effort was made to ascertain the cause of the woman's death that a storm of public indignation has descended on the heads of the coroner's jury. In the autopsy now planned all of the organs will be subjected to the minutest scrutiny. The fact that the body of the woman has lain for nearly two months in the grave will, it is believed, militate seriously against obtaining definite results. Before he left for the West, State's Attorney Miller gave out a strong interview, in which he declared his conviction that Magill murdered his wife.

POSITIVE OF GUILT.

"I am as positive that Fred Magill killed his wife," said the prosecutor, "as I am that the woman is dead. I have reached this conclusion not hastily, not by jumping at conclusions, but by a careful, painstaking survey of the evidence. Throughout this inquiry I have not been moved by a desire to fasten this crime on Fred Magill. For a long time I stood out against the strong current of public opinion that he was the slayer of his wife, but the facts could not be denied. Gradually, as the evidence began to accumulate, I became convinced that he was the murderer, and now as I am preparing to leave for the West to bring him back here to face a jury that conviction in my mind has become a certainty I was not the first to come to this conclusion. Members of the Board of Supervisors, to whom I am responsible for my official acts, kept urging me to arrest Magill weeks before I had reached any conclusion in the case.

MAGILL'S CAREER.

Fred Magill is 38 years of age, and has spent his entire life in Clinton He is of a wealthy family, and has inherited a good-sized fortune, dissipating nearly every cent of it. In 1892 his father died, leaving him $50,000. In two years he was almost penniless. He then decided to go to work and was given a position as assistant cashier in the John Warner bank, a post that he held until a short time ago, when he resigned, following the sudden death of his wife on May 30th last. He also secured some money from a settlement of his father's estate, $8000 being turned over to him last fall. This money lasted until spring, according to reports.

Perhaps the most peculiar and certainly one of the most important features of the case is the letters purporting to have been left by the dead woman. Their substance is as follows:

LETTERS IN CASE.

"Dear Fred:—You know that I have always loved you and I count on that love now to forgive me for this act. You were always good to me. We have had no quarrel in the five or six years since you gave over your wild ways. When I think of these things it grieves me that I must do what I am about to do. I ask you, as my final request, to take good care of Margaret. You are all she has to depend upon. I want you whenever you are in doubt to ask her to ask advice of Fay Graham. I hope your folks will be good to you and her. Good-bye forever —Pet."

SAN DIEGO, July 15 —Under instructions from his attorneys, Daney and Lewis and Judge J. W. McDonald, Frederick H. Magill, the Clinton, Illinois, banker who was arrested in this city Saturday evening on a charge of having murdered his first wife, yesterday refused to see any newspapermen, or to make any statement regarding his side of the case Both Magill and his second wife are confined in cells in the county jail and have refused to see anyone but their attorneys.

Late last night Attorney Eugene Daney stated positively that Magill and his wife will not fight the extradition proceedings.

"You say that Mr. and Mrs. Magill are both ready and anxious to return to Illinois and face their accusers," said Mr. Daney. "No proceedings will be instituted to effect their release on bail and the extradition proceedings will not be contested. Mr Magill has wired East that he is ready to return to Clinton as soon as the officers arrive"

DENVER, Colo., July 15 —Frederick Magill was married to Miss Fay E Graham at the county courthouse July 5 by "Parson" Tom Uzzed, a county commissioner with an office at the courthouse, and pastor of the People's Tabernacle. The couple was accompanied by Magill's 18-year-old daughter, and all seemed in a very happy and jovial frame of mind.

At the marriage license bureau the license clerk mistook Miss Magill for the prospective bride and began asking the usual questions, when Magill corrected him, saying

"Not this one (indicating his daughter), but this one over here," pointing to Miss Graham.

After the ceremony the couple spent a day or two in Denver and then proceeded by easy stages to San Diego, where all are now lodged in jail.

Steunenberg Slayer Admits Uncle Was Insane---Expert Testifies Bradley Flat Explosion Not Caused by Gas.

BOISE, Idaho, July 15 —Harry Orchard, the principal witness for the State against W. D Haywood, was called in rebuttal this morning when the trial of the secretary of the Western Federation of Miners was resumed. Orchard was in the chair about twenty minutes. The questions of the State were finished in less than five minutes and Orchard was turned over for cross-examination. E. F Richardson's cross-examination brought out a new feature when he asked if Orchard's maternal grandfather was not insane on the subject of confessing to imaginary crimes.

Orchard admitted that his uncle, Peter McKinney, who lived in Northumberland county, Ont., hanged himself while insane. He denied all knowledge of a grandfather named Patrick McKinney. This cross-examination was based on a letter received by the defense from B. W. McKinstry of Almedia, Pa. The writer claimed that he had received the information from Mrs Margaret Bull, who was a neighbor of Patrick McKinney. She said Patrick McKinney was "an old-style country gentleman, but he became insane and raved of crimes he had committed in Ireland, and as a result his family kept him chained."

Orchard appeared a little paler than when on the stand on direct examination, but he showed the same self-possession.

William Dewey, the witness who made the confession Saturday, and another witness in rebuttal, testified briefly

In the last half hour of the morning session rebuttal on the claim of conspiracy against the Western Federation of Miners between the Citizens' Alliance, the Mine Owners' Association and detectives in Colorado, an interesting verbal duel occurred when Richardson, for the defense, took E. L. Sabin, a lawyer of Idaho Springs, Colo., in hand for cross-examination. Richardson and Sabin were engaged in the trial of cases in Colorado in 1903 Richardson defended and Sabin prosecuted.

SUSTAINS DEFENSE.

When the Haywood trial was resumed this morning Judge Wood announced that he had decided to sustain the objection of the defense to the admittance in evidence of the records of the Steele Insane Asylum showing the committment to that institution of John D. Elliott, who, as a witness for the defense testified to a long conversation which he had with Harry Orchard in November, 1905. The court cited a statute which provides that insane persons shall not be accepted as witnesses. Apparently, he said, the prosecuting attorneys knew of Elliott's committment when he appeared on the stand and they should have objected to his testimony at that time.

William Dewey, the witness who startled the courtroom on Saturday by confessing to participating in the Coeur d'Alene riots and the attack on the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mill, was recalled to further identify W. F. Davis as the man who handed out the guns and ammunition the day the mob started for the mill.

The defense took advantage of Dewey's reappearance to question him further as to his motive for testifying at this time.

Dewey denied that he had been allowed to go in debt to the extent of $300 to the union store at Cripple Creek through the leniency of Davis.

"Didn't Davis finally deny further credit to you and wasn't it then that you left the union?" asked Attorney Richardson

"No, sir."

Dewey admitted that he still owes the union $20 or $25 for supplies from the store. He said he had never been refused credit by anyone.

DIDN'T SAY IT.

"Didn't you, after testifying on Saturday, say to the man who accompanied you down town that you knew the names of at least 200 of the men who went to the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mill, but you would be —— if you would tell that lawyer 'fellow?'" demanded Richardson.

"No."

The witness declared he could remember no such conversation. Neither could he remember just what was said

Lawrence Guibbini, the San Francisco grocer who lived across the street from the Bradley house, was recalled to deny that he served a drink to a man named Reilly the morning of the Bradley explosion Reilly, who appeared as a witness for the defense, declared Guibbini and his wife had served him a drink. Mrs Guibbini also took the stand and denied what Reilly had said.

On cross-examination Guibbini said he had received $325 as traveling expenses for returning to Boise from San Francisco.

REBUTTAL CONTINUES.

The State continued further to rebut the testimony as to the Bradley explosion.

Charles Wayne, who lived next door to Governor Steunenberg, was called to testify as to the position in which the Governor was found after the Orchard bomb had exploded, the purpose being to show similarity in the effect on Bradley and Steunenberg.

Attorneys for the defense objected to this testimony as not proper rebuttal, arguing that the subject should have been gone into as part of the direct case. The objection was sustained and the witness withdrawn.

C. D. Lanson of the Boise Gas Light Company was called next as a gas expert to rebut the theory of the defense that the Bradley explosion was caused by gas, the ignition having been through a lighted cigar.

Lanson declared in positive terms that gas would not ignite from any glow such as that in a lighted cigar He said a flame temperature was necessary before gas exploded. In order to explode, Lanson declared, the accumulated gas in a room or hallway would be so dense it would be surely detected by the smell. The force of a gas explosion, the witness said, was equal in all directions.

WOULD CHANGE RULE.

Cross examined by Attorney Richardson, Lanson said the Boise Gas company has no rules against smoking at the works.

"But that is because the gas is confined?" was suggested.

"Yes."

"Suppose it wasn't confined, would you allow smoking?"

"No."

"I didn't think so," commented Richardson.

The witness said the only way a cigar could ignite gas was for the smoker to puff violently enough to fan the wrapper into a flame—even then the wrapper would have to be unusually light and dry.

Harry Orchard was called to the stand As in the early stages of the trial he was preceded and followed by a deputy. Today, however, there were no detectives in the party.

"Were you ever known as or called 'shorty' at any stage of your career?" asked Prosecutor Hawley.

"No, sir."

Pat Moran, the Cheyenne saloonkeeper, testified that the Nevilles came into his saloon with a man called "shorty," whom he supposed to be Orchard.

Orchard denied he ever introduced Pinkerton Operative Gratias to Max Malich, or George Methliet, or that Pinkerton Operative Riddell introduced him to Joe Barnes.

SEEK FAMILY HISTORY.

The cross examination by the defense was devoted to an inquiry into the family history of the notorious criminal, it now being claimed that evidence has been discovered to show a strong strain of insanity on the maternal side.

"Do you know Patrick McKinney?" asked Richardson.

"No."

"Wasn't your grandfather named Patrick McKinney?"

"His name was McKinney—that's all I know."

"He was insane, wasn't he?"

"I don't know."

"He may have been and you couldn't recall it?"

"I don't know. I don't remember; I think he died before I was born."

"And didn't he hang himself?"

"I don't know."

"Well, didn't you have an uncle who went insane and imagined he had committed a crime and hanged himself?"

"I never had an uncle who imagined he committed a crime, but I did have one who hanged himself. He had been demented a year and a half. His name was Peter McKinney, a son of my grandfather on my mother's side."

"Were you ever arrested for arson and burglary in Butte?"

"In Butte?" queried Orchard, pensively, as if to be sure of the location and not the crime.

"Yes."

"No, sir. I never was arrested in Butte."

Orchard here left the stand. Counsel for the State said he might be recalled once more later on in the case.

MET MORAN.

Walter Bynum, a plumber of Denver, Colo., testified that he saw Pat Moran in Denver in June, 1904. Orchard in his story said he sent Moran to Denver to get $500 from the federation. Moran denied that he had gone to Denver in June for any purpose. Bynum said he knew Moran well and could not be mistaken.

E. M. Sabin, an attorney of Idaho Springs, Colo, was next on the stand. He said he knew Detective Gregory, who was killed by Harry Orchard. Gregory had been engaged by the prosecution to secure evidence in the case of conspiracy growing out of an attack on the Sun and Moon mine. The defendants were fourteen members of the Western Federation of Miners, including D. C. Copley, a witness for the defense in the present case. The defense has claimed that Gregory had notthing to do with anything in which the federation was interested. The witness, Sabin, prosecuted the conspiracy case and Attorney Richardson was leading counsel for the defense On cross-examination the two got into an altercation as to whether or not there had been a discussion among the citizens to the effect that the detectives employed by the prosecution had not earned their money Attorney Hawley chimed in, and Judge Wood, after listening to a running fire of questions and answers among the attorneys, caused a wave of laughter by announcing in a loud voice.

"One witness at a time, if you please, gentlemen."

LAWYERS WRANGLE.

Richardson and the witness were at it hammer and tongs from the very first.

"Those men were all given a verdict of not guilty, weren't they?"

"That's true; no one has ever denied you the glory of that victory," replied Sabin.

"I'm not asking for glory; I'm asking for the facts," said Richardson.

"Well, the facts, as I saw them, were that these men, every one of them, were guilty."

Richardson wanted to have this last answer stricken out, but the motion was denied by the court.

Richardson drew out the fact that at the time of the Sun and Moon explosion, Sabin and eighty other members of the Citizens' Alliance were placed under bonds to keep the peace. The witness denied that this was the reason the federation men had been prosecuted.

"But these cases were all tried by special prosecutors and the District Attorney had nothing to do with them."

"Yes, but it was because the District Attorney was what you called him at the trial, a nonentity."

Sabin said he was paid some money for his services at the trials by the Sun and Moon Mining Company.

The luncheon recess until 1:30 p. m. was taken at noon.

Applications for saloon licenses were made as follows: Charles H. Jacobsen, northeast corner of East Fourteenth street and Marion avenue; M. S. Franc's, Centerville; G. G. Clarke, Midway, Backstedt Brothers, Half-Way House, Dublin Canyon. They were referred to the license committee.

REQUISITIONS.

A requisition from Superintendent Clark of the county infirmary for supplies, was referred to the hospital committee.

LICENSES GRANTED.

Saloon licenses were granted to John Daley, Hayward road, near San Lorenzo junction, G. Noschka, East Fourteenth street and Jones avenue, Elmhurst; W. J. Styles 2539 Fruitvale avenue and Henry Benz, Castro valley.

A PROTEST.

A protest was read against the granting of a liquor license to Otto Schwartz on Hopkins street near Fruitvale avenue. It was signed by W. C. Damon and other residents of that vicinity. It set forth that only three of the seven signers to the application resided within the limit required by law. It showed that ten of the protestants were heads of families Attorney Huffaker said he wanted to withdraw the Schwartz application. Acting Chairman Rowe said the application could not be withdrawn.

Supervisor Bridge said he objected to the withdrawal of the application. Schwartz, he said, had already been denied a liquor license, but had gone along violating the law by selling intoxicants and was now under conviction for the offenses. He moved the application be denied.

Supervisor Kelley seconded the motion, and the application for a license was unanimously denied.

The application of Miss Jose McGee of 1499 Irving street, Berkeley, for relief was referred to Supervisor Rowe.

NO MOTOR CYCLE.

District Attorney Brown rendered an opinion to the effect that the county could not purchase a motor cycle for William C. Allen, constable of Brooklyn township.

F W. Hesse, of Hayward, sent in a communication asking the board to sell him water on the Mattox road, 120 rods east of Redwood road.

Deputy District Attorney Donahue said it was not in the power of the county to sell water.

Supervisor Bridge moved that the request be denied and the motion prevailed on the ground that the county had no more water now than was needed.

FRUITVALE FIREMEN.

A communication was received from E. L. Blackman, secretary of Fruitvale Fire Commissioners, asking the board to levy a tax of $7000 for the purpose of improving the fire department of that suburb in accordance with the result of a recent election to ascertain the wishes of the taxpayers on the subject. The election resulted in 79 votes in favor of the proposition and 17 votes against it. The improvement in the department contemplates the purchase of a gasoline fire engine costing $2250, a horse for $250, a set of harness for $75, ten fire hydrants for $500, water, $360, for maintenance of horse $200, for telephone $48, for maintenance of fire department $2347. The request was referred to the district attorney.

On motion of Supervisor Bridge, the chairman of the building committee, was empowered to have the carpets of the offices in the Hall of Records cleaned at a cost not to exceed 8 cents per yard.

The same official was authorized to purchase an 1-R Farmer boiler for the county jail.

The map of Clifton Park was filed with the understanding, however, that none of the streets contained in it were to be considered as accepted by the county.

TO LEAVE THE STATE.

Steward H A Borchert of the Receiving Hospital was granted a leave of absence of thirty days with permission to leave the State.

County Surveyor Haviland announced that E B and A. L Stone had finished the grading and macadamizing of East Fourteenth street from the Oakland line to High street, and on motion the work was accepted by the board.

The Fruitvale Garage Company requested the board to remove a mud puddle near the entrance to the premises, and Supervisor Bridge said he would look into the matter

Edwin A. Sherman, president of the Associated Veterans of the Mexican war, invited the board to attend the celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of the last battle of the Mexican war to be held September 14 at the Presidio, in San Francisco. The invitation was accepted

William Richards was employed for six weeks to act as substitute tender on the Webster-street bridge during the vacation of two weeks allowed to each of the three regular tenders

It was also decided to employ a watchman both by night and day, to guard the county tax rolls while the supervisors are sitting as a board of equalization

On motion of Supervisor Kelley, it was decided to insure the sheriff's automobile in the sum of $2000.

Frederick Fittgok of East Oakland asked for permission to build a landing on the estuary near Park street. The board decided that it would visit the site of the proposed improvement and then secure the opinion of the district attorney in the matter.

Adjourned until next Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock

SAYS EMBARRASSMENT CAUSED PLEA OF GUILTY

"Yo Honah, I was slightly embarrassed last time I came into dis heah cou'troom, but since then I have 'cided that I would like to change mah plea from guilty to not guilty," said J. T. Taylor, a negro who came up for sentence this morning before Superior Judge Ellsworth.

The colored man from the western portion of the city admitted that he was financially embarrassed, but under the law he was permitted to have the court appoint an attorney. Taylor said he was so bashful the last time he was in court that he knew of nothing else to do but plead guilty.

Judge Ellsworth allowed Taylor to change his plea and at the same time looked around the court for an able counselor to defend the negro. Attorney John De Lancey was asked to take the case, but he complained to the court that he was doing three attorneys' work at present, so could not spare the time. Attorney Dow disliked very much to have the court force the client on him, but under his oath as a member of the bar he was obliged to take Taylor's case. Dow was relieved by Attorney E. E. Gehring, who took the matter in charge and trusted to Taylor's friends for a fee.

Taylor is charged with stealing a gold watch and chain from J. J. Weeb on May 1st last. The stolen articles were valued at $60.

LATEST NEWS FROM ALAMEDA AND BERKELEY

HIGH HONOR GIVEN JAFFA

University Expert Named Head of State's Pure Food Laboratory.

BERKELEY, July 15.—The high ability of Professor G. E. Jaffa, head of the laboratory of the agricultural chemistry at the University of California, has again been recognized through his appointment yesterday to chief of the food laboratory of the State Board of Helath. The appointment was tendered by letter from Dr. N. K. Foster, secretary of the State Board of Health, and accepted. The salary is $3000, an advance on what Professor Jaffa now receives.

The plans for the erection of a laboratory are not as yet complete. For some time the buildings of the agricultural college of the State University will be used by Professor Jaffa and his corps of assistants in the prosecution of the pure food enactment of the legislature.

BERKELEY WINS.

It is rumored that when the time came for the State Board of Health to select a director for the pure food laboratory, there was a strong fight made by the Sacramento delegation to have the laboratories built there. When the offer was tendered the University savant, however, he asked that the laboratory be located in Berkeley.

It is planned when Jaffa and his assistants are well organized for the work, another building will be used for the laboratory of the State Board of Health in which the analysis of foodstuffs will be made. This will not be done, however, until money for the purpose is provided by the legislature.

Professor Jaffa will still retain a place in the faculty of the University. He will not, however, be on the active teaching force, but will be an honorary member of the corps of professors. He will not draw a salary from the University.

Professor Jaffa, who is regarded as one of the expert chemists of the State, was graduated from the State University with the class of 1877. He has been with the faculty since 1880. In all matters regarding foods and nutrititon he is an authority. He has done considerable work for the United States government.

SEES OLD CLASSMATES AT HARVARD REUNION

BERKELEY, July 15.—Town Auditor E. L. Hanscom returned to Berkeley Saturday night after a six weeks' trip in the East. He left here June 6 and passed his time back in the old New England states, where he lived when a boy.

Hanscom was born in Elliott, Maine, and lived there until 11 years of age, then came to California. He returned to New Hampshire and Maine later, attended Harvard College, and the school at Exeter, Maine, then returned to California, arriving here in 1868. The visit made at this time is the first in forty years, and while away he attended the fortieth reunion of Harvard students of the class of 1867, of which he was a member. Of his trip Hanscom says:

"I did not have an unpleasant day while away. Everywhere I found the weather delightful, not a rainy or unpleasantly warm day in the entire time, and I enjoyed the visit to the fullest extent. I visited all of the old places where I roamed as a boy and student. At Exeter I only found one of the old buildings, the others having been destroyed by fire and new ones erected. At Harvard I found some of the old buildings, but—how it has grown! Think of it; there were more than 1000 degrees conferred this year, and the Freshman class will number more than this number.

MEETS CLASSMATES.

"In my class, the one of '67, there were 64 members. Of these 56 are living, and 33 of them at the reunion. It was a jolly time and the boys had the time of their lives.

"Of course I did not have time to look down into the under-current of affairs in the East, but the surface denotes activity and prosperity. Things look good throughout, and I think the indications are for continued prosperity. Throughout the Atlantic coast business is good, the people seem well dressed and contented, and there is nothing to cause a disturbance in these conditions."

GAMBLING GAME RAIDED BY OFFICER

BERKELEY, July 15.—Charles Green, living at 2811 Seventh street, was arrested Sunday morning and booked at the police station charged with gambling. Trustee Olson notified the police yesterday morning that he wanted an officer in plain clothes stationed on a vacant lot near 2417 Seventh street, about 10 o'clock in the morning. There would be a baseball game in progress at that time, and several boys or young men would take advantage of this to shoot craps.

FINDS GAME.

Patrolman Tidd was detailed to follow out Trustee Olsen's report, and when he reached the Byron Jackson works at the corner of Sixth and Carlton streets found the game in progress.

A short distance from where the officer stationed himself he saw several young men engaged in shooting dice, and, speaking to the bookkeeper of the works, asked him to walk along with him to divert suspicion. The two men were apparently engaged in conversation and were watching the ball game, until they were close to the players.

Suddenly Tidd rushed at the boys, grabbing Green by the coat collar, the other boys scampering away before he could seize them. Tidd gathered up $1.78 in coin and two dice, and then marched Green to the station. On searching the prisoner, Tidd found two other dice in his pocket.

DEPOSITS BAIL.

Green acknowledged that he was shooting craps, and, depositing $25 bail, was released. Before going, however, he gave the names of his companions and they will be brought into court. These are Frank DeCosta, who lives at Seventh and Channing; Joe Codoza, Bancroft way, between Fifth and Sixth streets; Charles Armstrong, Tenth street, between Channing and Dwight way; Lee Simmon, Fifth street and Channing way; Alfred Lee, foot of Channing way.

Wilkins, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, officiated at the ceremony. The remains were interred in the Oakland cemetery.

FIRST ALIEN LICENSE OUT

Russian Hunter Leads Foreigners of Alameda County in His Permit.

The first man in Alameda county to pay $25 for his hunting license is Reinult Koff, a Russian carpenter, living at 38 Hellen street. He appeared at the county clerk's office this morning and paid down the amount required of all foreigners. He stated that he is not much of a hunter and does not kill the game for the market.

"I just go out around the hills here and do a little shooting," said Koff while Deputy County Clerk J. R. Ford was filling out hunter's license No. 1326. "Once in awhile I take a trip over Sunday, but aside from that my hunting does not amount to very much. I have been here nine years and have my intention papers, but because I could not answer all the questions of the examination I took in the Superior Court I could not become a citizen. I believe in upholding the law and would rather pay $25 to kill a little game than to shoot on the sly and take a chance at a heavy penalty."

Koff's badge is made of brass while those for citizens of this country are alumnium.

Much hunting is done by aliens and many arrests are expected, as few in the State have secured licenses.

Mrs. Busher had been ill for several months, dropsy and heart disease causing her death. For many years the family lived in Berkeley, but removed to Oakland a few months ago. The funeral will be held from the late residence tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock. Besides her husband Mrs. Busher is survived by three sons and two daughters, Walter H., Marlon, Bessie A. and Katherine E. and Frederick B. Busher.

THE NEED OF A HOME.

Many of the glb fortunes came from land investments, and there is a deal more of them waiting for wise buyers. Every workingman ought to have a home—one that he owns, free of debt, although he may have to buy it on the instalment plan. Money spent in this way, and on insurance policies, is money saved, and it is much safer than even in savings banks. The dishonesty among trusted employes of banks makes one tremble for the safety of the nest egg nowadays. An old man whom I hired for garden work, knowing nothing of him save his care in clearing up a neighboring estate, took away my breath when he informed me that he would be glad to do all kinds of work at the rate of twenty-five cents an hour, and guaranteed to do it as well as he would do it for himself. He gave me his address—a handsome two-family house with land enough for two more houses of the same pattern—and told me that he owned the property, living in the upper suite of apartments and renting the other part of the house. By years of industry and thrift he has accumulated ease for his old age when he cares to take it, and made provision for his family. An inheritance of poverty often passes through families for many generations. No special effort is made by anybody to get a financial footing, and existence is a hand-to-mouth struggle. When some member has the energy to build the foundation of prosperity there are better times ahead for those who come after him. A home is a pretty inheritance, and the possessor of one is not worth much if he cannot add something to it each year. A piece of land costs little to keep and it is tangible property. With a house its value is more than doubled. The best paying house is one fitted for two families, the rent of one part paying the expense of the whole piece of property.

UNIVERSITY Y. W. C. A. ANNUAL REPORT PROVES SOCIETY IN SPLENDID WORK

MOST PROMINENT CO-EDS ON LIST

High School Feature Attracts Many Students.

BERKELEY, July 15.—Miss Varina Morrow, general secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association of the State University, has submitted her annual report for the last fiscal year to the advisory board. The report contains much of interest relating to the work of the young women of the university in their special field of effort toward the material uplifting and spiritual encouragement of their fellows.

The report shows that more than one-third of the women students of the University are enrolled as active members of the Y. W. C. A. of Berkeley. Moreover, the most prominent co-eds of the university, members of the various sororities and the Prytaneun Society, are numbered among the girls who are workers in the organization.

The interest that the college girls have inspired in those of the High School also occupies a part of the report for the last fiscal year. Two classes each term have been carried on for the High School girls by the co-eds, and the total membership is now 35. This High School work is a new departure for the co-eds in the Y. W. C. A.

The religious meetings are also touched on in the report of Miss Morrow. The bringing together of the college women to discuss the topics of vital interest to them she holds to be of the greatest value.

LEADING SPEAKERS.

The following speakers are named as those who led the discussions during the past year:

Professor Henry Morse Stephens, the Rev. D. E. Potter, Dr. Willet of the University of Chicago, Bishop Pell, the Rev. S. D. Hutsinpiller, Mrs. Potter, Mrs. W. C. Ritter, Dr. McAfee and also several national secretaries: Miss Conde, Miss Taylor, Miss Paxson, Miss MacDonald of Japan, Miss Simms, Miss Rouse of the world's committee and Miss Salisbury, State secretary.

The chance of the college girls in extension work to aid others less fortunate than themselves is emphasized in the report as follows:

"The field of this department is: Work at the Old Ladies' Home, where programs of song or reading have been given every few weeks. The same kind of work has been done in the King's Daughters' Home. Work has been started in the California Girls' Training Home, where the committee will do much work in the way of giving joy to those young girls. ## TWO TERRORS IN CHINATOWN

After filling up with water-font whisky yesterday, Ephraim Graham and John McDonald, railway special policemen, undertook to start a riot in Chinatown. Graham found amusement in pointing his gun at passing Chinese and insulting everybody in sight. As his temper warmed he began shooting at some Chinese children near the corner of Eighth and Webster streets. There was an immediate scurrying for cover on the part of the inhabitants and a call for the police.

Sergeant Brown and Policeman Nedderman responded in time to prevent Graham from carrying out a threat to kill a Chinese clerk, whose scared face he saw peering from a window and whom Graham was determined to get hold of, he declared, if he pulled the building down. Graham submitted to being disarmed quietly.

McDonald, while not displaying a gun, undertook to put up a fight. He was quickly subdued. Both men were shackled and taken to jail, where charges of drunkenness and shooting firearms within the city limits were placed against Graham and disturbing the peace against McDonald. Graham today pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness and will be sentenced July 19. On the same day he will be called on to plead to the charge of discharging firearms in the city limits.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

The body of an unidentified Chinese who was killed by a Southern Pacific train at Stege last night was brought to this city and left at the morgue. No particulars as to how the man was killed were vouchsafed by the train men. The Contra Costa county coroner has been notified.

POLICE GET SHOCK AT QUIET MORNING HOUR

BERKELEY, July 15.—Patrolmen Barff and Thomson were standing on Shattuck avenue, near Dwight Way, at 2:50 o'clock this morning, when two men driving a horse and following another horse, dashed down Shattuck avenue, one of the men yelling at the top of his voice and using vulgar language.

Disturbing the peace of one policeman is bad enough, but to give two of them a nervous shock is more than the even-tempered Berkeley patrolman can stand. The policemen darted down Shattuck avenue, overtaking the alleged roysterers at the corner of Shattuck avenue and Parker street. Stephen O'Donnel was locked up in the station. He will answer two charges tomorrow morning, one being for intoxication and the other disturbing the peace.

POLICE PREPARE.

BERKELEY, July 15.—The Berkeley police force baseball team started into practice this morning and there will be a rigid "try-out" for positions. The team is made up of several men who have made good in semi-professional teams, and it is said the nine will be in readiness to play its first game in about one month. There are several challenges on the list at present and some team will have a chance at the Berkeley "Finest" soon.

Those who are now on the team are: Chief August Vollmer, Sergeants C. D. Lee and Becker, Detectives Jamieson and Fraser, Patrolmen Kelly, Wooley, Miller, Bohrer and Waterbury. Jamieson is slated for first base, Waterbury pitcher, Becker and Kelly for catcher. Others will contest for places.

A FARMER

with a cultivated voice and a polished diction was being complimented upon his style of speech. He remarked: "I don't have to use good language; I am conversant with the worst." It is sometimes a very good idea to know both sides of a given proposition. A man doesn't have to use pure language, but your grocer and druggist and confectioner will have to use pure foods, or at least sell you pure foods, and here is where the dealers should be "conversant with the worst." That little thing that counts for most—experience—is the "wise money" in such matters.

TAKES WHIRL IN OAKLAND

Ex-Mayor Gallagher Crosses Bay and Falls in Hands of the Local Police.

Having had the three-eyed peacock feather of an appointed Mayor of San Francisco wrested from him by those who wield the "big stick" in that city's graft campaign, Supervisor James L. Gallagher took a whirl through Oakland's streets yesterday in a large automobile and had an experience. He was accompanied by his brother and two women, and J. H. Graham was the chauffeur at the helm.

The ex-Mayor's speed-burner had not gone far on its dizzy flight before it and its occupants bumped up against the police.

Standing at Sixth avenue were Patrolmen Kohler and Silveria, holding stop watches on the Gallagher car as it tore through the asphalted highway.

Timed enough to show the watchers that the limit had been overreached, the policemen hailed the chauffeur and brought the machine to a standstill.

"You're under arrest, young man," announced the patlormen.

Graham turned rather hopeless to Gallagher, who sat alongside of him. The order then came for the car to go to police headquarters, one of the policemen accompanying it.

"WHAT NEXT?"

Gallagher, submitting to the inevitable as gracefully as the circumstances would warrant, requested to know what next?

"Bail is $50," said the sergeant.

"But I haven't more than $30 or $40 with me," protested Gallagher. And he was a bit importing, for jail even in Oakland did not appeal to the ex-Mayor.

A brief discussion followed and the final decision was to accept $30, being outside capital, as it were, and probably velvet for the city treasury, as Gallagher indicated that his chauffeur would likely forfeit bail, which he did when his name was called in Police Court No. 1 this morning.

As soon as the coin had been deposited last night the Gallagher party was permitted to resume its interrupted return trip to San Francisco.

ODE TO AN AUTO.

After W. S. Gilbert.

Roll on, machine, roll on!
Thru each familiar street,
Roll on!
What tho you trip my laggard feet?
What tho your number ne'er is seen
When o'er me rolls your car of green,
And I sniff smelly gasolene?
Never you mind;
Roll on!

Roll on, machine, roll on!
Throw on me mud and dust!
Roll on!
It's true that I am somewhat mussed,
And that I swore a few, 'tis true.
When o'er my prostrate form you flew,
But don't let that bother you.
Roll on!

UNIVERSITY MILITARY AFFAIRS OF INTEREST

BERKELEY, July 15.—Much interest is being manifested by friends of the University of California as to whether it will be classed as one of the six best military schools by the War Department. The latter has received reports from its four experts who have been visiting the one hundred military schools in all parts of the country for the purpose of conducting the annual inspection.

At these institutions army officers are on duty as instructors or professors of the military art, and each year it is required that the schols shall be carefully inspected and to that end as few officers as possible are detailed, and as many schools as possible are inspected by one officer that there may be a common standard from which the relative merits of the schools are judged. There is much interest in the reports of the army inspectors because they designate the best six institutions—those schools where the nearest semblance to military rule is maintained and where the best results are observed.

Besides the final indorsement obtained in this way, the six institutions named are entitled to have students regarded as eligible to take the examination for appointment as second leutenants in the regular army. There will be a number of vacancies in that grade this year.

MANY HUNTERS IN SAN MATEO

On List of License Owners Are Names of Two Enthusiastic Lady Nimrods.

REDWOOD CITY, July 15.—County Clerk Joseph H. Nash believes San Mateo leads the state in its number of hunters. Within ten days 400 permits have been issued and badges given to residents who intend to bag game within the bounds of the county. This unusual run upon the officials has depleted the stock of permits and now hunters must wait until the fish commission forwards a new stock of the desired credentials.

Not only has the number of male sportsmen been large, but included in the "hunting 400" are two young ladies who desire to carry a gun for sport's sake. Gussie Higgins, a fair young sharpshooter of Halfmoon Bay, and Helen Gould, a clever young lady of Redwood City, are the two Dianas of the county.

The local huntress, is a crack shot and, in her own words, "would rather hunt than eat." All of the permits issued with the exception of two have been given to citizens, for which a $1 fee has been collected. Two foreigners have taken out permits and paid the tax of $25.

CHICAGO, July 15.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Sterling, Ill., says:

Mrs. Sinacinta Genetti, a young Italian woman, was found dead in her bedroom yesterday with a bullet wound through her heart. The police have been working on the mystery with no success whatever, as there is not the slightest clew of motive in the way of revenge or robbery to be had.

The authorities have about concluded that the murder is the work of the Black Hand Association, and may have had its inception in Italy. So far as can be learned the woman had no enemies. There is no evidence of a struggle in the room where she was murdered and the crime was so skillfully committed that the murderer left no trace of himself. Neighbors did not hear the shot and no suspicious characters have been noticed in the vicinity.

LONG LIVE THE KING!

Is the popular cry throughout European countries; while in America, the cry of the present day is "Long live Dr. King's New Discovery, King of Throat and Lung Remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Paine, Truro, Mass., says: "It never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Paine's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throats after all other remedies have failed; and for coughs and colds it's the proven remedy. Guaranteed by Osgood Bros., druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

PROMINENT WOMAN IS CALLED BY DEATH

SAN RAFAEL, July 15.—The death of Mrs. G. Dardier, aged 40, one of the most popular and well known women in Marin county, comes as a great shock to her many friends here and in San Francisco. Mrs. Dardier had been in ill health for about two years, and during the past three months had failed rapidly. Heart disease caused her death.

Mrs. Dardier's husband, who was a well known civil engineer, died three years ago. Mrs. Dardier's brothers, V. B. and S. H. Cheda, are prominent residents of this city.

The funeral will be held from her late residence at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

OAKLAND PEOPLE WHO ARE OFF ON VACATIONS

George McDonald, John Mott, George Short, W. F. Neall, W. Bellrose and W. Giroux left this morning on the steamer for Eureka, where they will make their start for the mountains of Trinity county. The party is well stocked with provisions and each one has a hunters' license tied around his neck. Jerked venison in large quantities is looked for by the friends of these gamesters. The outing is planned for about six weeks.

ENGINE OF GASOLINE LAUNCH IS STOLEN

Estuary pirates are again committing depredations and the police have landed two young Portuguese in prison accused of crime. They are Joseph Silva of Twentieth avenue, near East Fourteenth street, and Tony King, his chum. Their alleged offense was the stealing of a gasoline engine from a launch.

Jack Manning of 667 Seventh street on July 12 missed his gasoline launch, which had been taken away from its mooring place, at the foot of Webster street. The launch was later found abandoned near the foot of Twentieth avenue, with its engine gone. The engine was afterwards found reposing at Joe Silva's home on Twentieth avenue. The arrest of Silva and King followed.

MANY KITES TO FLY TO HELP OUT SCIENCE

HYDE PARK, July 15.—Blue Hill Observatory, the pioneer American institution for the study of meteorology, will be the scene next week of the most extensive kite-flying experiments ever conducted in America. The experiments will be made simultaneously and in conjunction with similar flights, either by kites or balloons, to be made at more than twenty other stations throughout the world. The object of the experiments is to make meteorology an exact science and to formulate rules, if possible, that will permit the forecasting of the weather with as much certainty as the forecasting of astronomical events.

SECRETARY ROOT WILL HAVE DIAZ'S HOME

MEXICO CITY, July 14.—An unprecedented honor will be bestowed on American Secretary of State Root and Mrs. Root upon their coming visit to Mexico as guest of the Mexican government. # CHARGED WITH ASSASSINATION

Number of Marine Corps to Be Taken to Old Virginia as Prisoners.

VALLEJO, July 15.—Robert W. Greenwood, 22 years old, a member of the marine corps at the barracks on Mare Island, is confined in the naval prison waiting the arrival of officers from Carroll county, Virginia, to take him back to face trial for the murder of Francis Puckett, a wealthy land owner.

Puckett was slain from ambush in August, 1905, and Greenwood, because of former trouble and threats he had made, was accused of the crime. A posse, intent on lynching him, surrounded his home, but he escaped and fled to Oakland, where he was employed at the restaurant of Owen & Starr, on Twelfth street.

His capture was brought about by Mrs. William Dineen, whose husband also was an employe of the restaurant. Greenwood was then going under the name of Johnston, and occasionally using the alias of Robert Efferson. After having been introduced to Mrs. Dineen at her home on West street the two became friendly, and in confidence Greenwood told her he was accused of the crime and that a price was on his head.

ANONYMOUS LETTER.

They quarreled some few weeks ago and Greenwood came to Mare Island and enlisted in the marine corps. An anonymous letter followed him to Captain Rittenhouse, then in temporary command, telling him of the crime.

Greenwood admitted, after a severe sweating, that he was under suspicion and that the Eastern authorities were searching for him. He accused Mrs. Dineen of writing the letter and later told the details of the murder, claiming that it had been done by a negro with whom Puckett also had been embroiled.

Telegrams were interchanged between Mare Island and the sheriff of Carroll county, with the result that the attaches of the island were requested to hold him until officers could arrive to bring him home to the scene of his alleged crime.

Greenwood is uncommunicative regarding his past, but claims that his father was once a wealthy planter of Virginia and that he comes of a family of long lineage.

INTREPID PUT INTO SERVICE

Training Ship Launched in 1904 Placed in Commission at Mare Island.

VALLEJO, July 15.—The training ship Intrepid which was launched at the Mare Island navy yard in October, 1904, was placed in commission today for the first time. The reason for the delay is assigned to the failure of Congress until recently to appropriate money for the ship's completion. The Intrepid is needed at the Goat island station, where the apprentices will be placed aboard so as to allow their quarters there to be remodeled.

The Intrepid is a steel vessel having only sail power and is bark rigged. Her dimensions are as follows: length on the water line, 176 feet, six inches; length over all, about 210 feet; extreme breadth, forty-five feet, seven inches; normal draft, sixteen feet, eleven inches; displacement, 1800 tons. Her battery consists of six four-inch rapid-fire guns, four six-pound rapid-fire guns and two automatic guns. The four-inch guns are mounted on the gun deck and the remainder of the battery on the berth and main decks.

The cost of the Intrepid was about $370,000. She will carry, in addition to her commanding officer, nine ward-room officers and 320 men.

The first rivet was driven in and clinched in the keel in January, 1903, by Rear-Admiral McCalla. The boat was christened by Miss Helen de Young.

STILL NO ROOM FOR SHERIDAN ON DRYDOCK

VALLEJO, July 15.—The Army transport Sheridan has not been placed in the Mare Island dry dock yet, owing to the lack of room. However, considerable outside work is being done on the vessel and a large force of mechanics will be put to work on the vessel by the construction and repair department this week. Constructor Evans of the yard has seen fit to introduce the new piece work wage scale for the work done on this vessel, and the scale will go into effect on Tuesday.

Baby Not Strong?
Look to the FOOD

NATURE has determined just what food Baby must have to nourish the rapidly growing little body and mind.

Healthy mother's milk is our perfect model.

In this first tube of mother's milk we see just what baby's food should contain and how much of each ingredient there should be.

In the second tube we have a much-used type of infant's food.

Notice how very poor it is in muscle and bone building salts, muscle and tissue building proteids, and fats for fuel to keep baby warm. Of milk sugar there is nearly enough, but there is also something present which is not good for baby's steady diet—that is, cane sugar.

Cane sugar will make baby fat, perhaps, but weak, rickety, brainless—unhealthy.

Most infant foods contain too little fat and too much sugar.

Now look at this tube of Sanipure Milk

Notice how very close the proportions as well as the quantities correspond to mother's milk.

The very nature of the substitutes in Sanipure Milk are also very close to those in mother's milk—much closer than any plain cow's milk or any other infant's food.

There is no cane sugar in Sanipure Milk—nothing to disagree with Baby.

You can use Sanipure Milk for baby's steady diet and know that the food is right—that baby's plumpness is good, healthy flesh and that mind as well as body is being properly nourished. The formula is on every can. You can regulate the quantity as baby needs.

Our valuable book, "Baby's First Days," tells how and gives much valuable information every mother will be glad to have.

The Problem Demanding Settlement.

The most necessary thing to be done in San Francisco at this moment is to ascertain by judicial process who is legally Mayor of the city. Discussing who shall be Mayor is a mere abstraction compared to the pressing importance of having the courts determine in the briefest time possible in whom the official authority is really lodged. It may turn out that all this Mayor-making connubiating is only adding new difficulties to the work of reconstructing the municipality politically. There are enough tangles in the skein already.

Messrs Langdon and Heney are positive that Schmitz ceased to be Mayor when he received sentence. Schmitz's attorneys are equally positive that he is still Mayor and cannot be removed till the Supreme Court passes on his appeal, provided his term does not expire while the appeal is pending. According to their view, Gallagher, the president of the Board of Supervisors, is acting Mayor while Schmitz is legally incapacitated by being incarcerated in jail. If this view be correct, Boxton has no standing whatever. As he resigned from the Board prior to his election by his colleagues and brothers in crime, he is neither Supervisor nor Mayor, if Messrs. Campbell, Metson, Drew and Barrett's interpretation of the law be correct. If Schmitz is still Mayor in law Gallagher is Mayor in fact by virtue of charter provision.

But Gallagher is not exercising the functions of Mayor. Boxton is attempting to do so, but Schmitz is issuing orders to the subordinate officers of the municipality not to obey him. The Auditor and Treasurer, who are responsible on their official bonds for any money paid out without authority of law, decline to take the peril and responsibility of deciding who is Mayor. The final decision must be given by the courts anyway, and it is neither wise nor just to force an alternative on officials regularly elected and not involved in criminal scandals when an issue can be made up and rushed to an immediate conclusion before the only proper tribunal. Doubtless the higher courts will take judicial cognizance of public necessity and the acuteness of the situation, and put aside everything else to hear and determine who is Mayor and how the authority of the municipal executive may be exercised.

According to contention, San Francisco has a de jure Mayor, a de facto Mayor and a usurping Mayor. On whom does the mantle of authority lawfully rest? Schmitz has been convicted and committed to jail, bail being denied that he may be legally incapacitated to perform the duties of executive, and Gallagher and Boxton certainly ought to be wearing stripes in San Quentin. There is room to doubt Schmitz's guilt, but there is no room for doubt in regard to Gallagher and Boxton. Both have confessed to numerous felonies. However, the question demanding immediate settlement is who has the lawful right at this time to exercise the authority of Mayor. Everything else can wait a bit for determination, but this point should be determined at once. It is a point, moreover, that cannot be determined either by the District Attorney or the attorneys for Schmitz. The dog-whip cannot settle questions of law.

The Last of the Bourbons.

Colonel Watterson still refuses to enter the Bryan wigwam. He snorts every time the Nebraskan's name is mentioned. Some of his editorial remarks in the Louisville Courier-Journal remind one of his famous prophecy in 1892 that in nominating Cleveland the Democrats would walk through a slaughter-house to an open grave. The Democratic victory that year was phenomenal, but Colonel Watterson has not ceased to be a prophet, albeit not recognized as one in Kentucky. Of Bryan he says on July 6:

"Not since 1896 have the Republicans entertained the least fear of Mr. Bryan. It is the opinion of the Republican leaders that he is the one Democrat whom they can surely and always beat. They have been so fixed in this belief that the full force of the Republican diplomatic machinery has been put forth to signalize and distinguish him. Upon two occasions orders went from the State Department to our foreign embassies and legations to exploit him to the uttermost as an eminent American, the purpose being to keep him at the fore in the character of the one and only Democrat of world-wide fame.

"If we can elect anybody next year, then, of course, we can elect Mr. Bryan; but if Mr. Bryan is going to keep on piling up his record and his fortune, making speeches and springing issues, nothing short of an earthquake will suffice."

The trouble with the gifted blue grass editor is that he is out of touch with modern political thought. He has no sympathy with men like Roosevelt and Bryan, and a rooted dislike to the policies they advocate and the methods they pursue. Colonel Watterson clings to the idea of an aristocratic leadership and an obsolete theory in politics. Like the Earl of Warwick, he is fighting ably and brilliantly against the new order. He is the last of the Bourbons.

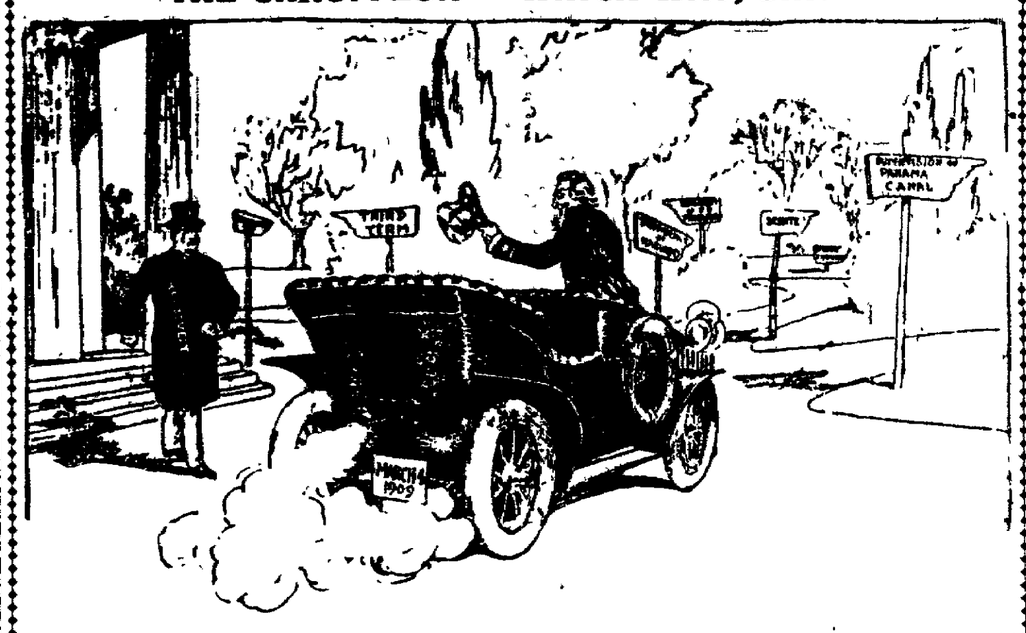

---

The announcement via Mexico that President Roosevelt is studying out a scheme to nationalize the railways smells fishy. Mr. Roosevelt has consistently argued against public ownership of railroads, contending that regulation was the proper policy. Indeed, he has more than once declared that regulation and control are necessary to avert government ownership. It would be strange to find him accepting Mr. Bryan's view that government ownership is the ultimate solution of the transportation question.

---

The muddle in San Francisco seems to be due to a determination to allow no man to be Mayor who will not be somebody's man—a mere deputy for some interest or clique. Real reforms in the municipal administration can hardly be expected from putting puppets in office, although it is easy for men to convince themselves that the public good depends upon their holding the reins of power by hook or crook. The grip in San Francisco just now appears to be by crook.

THE CHAUFFEUR—"WHICH WAY, SIR?"

Hoke Smith on the Negro.

In the course of his inaugural address, Hoke Smith, who has just become Governor of Georgia, said:

"The Negro child should be taught manual labor and how to live. The Negro teacher should be selected less by book than by character examination. The Negro school should help the Negro, not injure him. Racial differences cannot be overcome by misguided philanthropists."

Taken by itself, this statement can be accepted universally. It applies to whites equally with blacks. It is sound philosophy in any country. Unfortunately Governor Smith uses it to emphasize an argument that the Negro shall be condemned to a perpetual condition of political and industrial inferiority. That the Negro should be morally and industrially trained is beyond question, but the training should not be predicated on the theory that he must aspire to be nothing more than a hewer of wood and a drawer of water. He has an inalienable right to aspire to any station, any position in the body politic for which his talents, character and attainments fit him. The theory that his color is an insuperable bar to his elevation by evolutionary process is untenable.

The Japanese Minister of War denies that his government has ordered spies to get plans of our defensive fortifications and information generally regarding our military strength and preparedness. Such denials are to be accepted with due allowance. Statements of this character are frequently couched in diplomatic terms that convey a false impression while adhering to truth in the letter. All countries are addicted to gaining secret information in regard to the military establishments of other nations, and resort to very shabby expedients to obtain it. One of the conditions of a spy's employment is that if he is caught the government employing him is not responsible for what he does. Governments promptly repudiate their detected secret service agents, and diplomatically announce that the information the agents are furtively seeking has not been sought by official authority. The mendacity and hypocrisy of such disavowals are recognized in every Cabinet, but a pretense is made of accepting them at their face value. Our own government is gathering all the information it can regarding the military and naval strength of Japan, and it would be strange if Japan should neglect to inform herself regarding the United States. Every civilized nation maintains a spy system. This does not look pretty, but it is true, and every nation testifies that it is shameful by denying the truth.

A NOVEL AUTO TEST.

The report of the judges in the vapor emission competition which were instituted by the Royal Automobile Club of Great Britain with the object of encouraging the improvement of the designs of existing gasoline-driven cars in order to diminish the nuisance caused by fuel exhaust has been announced. In compliance with the instructions of the committee the competing vehicles, twelve in number, were fitted so as to allow of the attachment of thin copper receivers to their mufflers for drawing off a quantity of the discharged products. The first part of the competition consisted in placing each car on an incline of one in seven, both up and down grade, and running the motors light for ten minutes, a portion of the exhaust gases being passed into the receiver. The contents of these receivers were then transferred to the glass vessels of the analytical chemist for analysis.

The second part of the competition consisted in running the cars under ordinary conditions, but connected with an observer in each car, the receivers being ten minutes in a run of about three and one-half miles. During the runs observations were also made as to the character of the exhaust—i. e., if visible and objectionable. The results of the analysis of the exhaust and of the road and garage observations of smoke from the several cars were carefully examined and considered. In summing up the results of the contest the committee report says:

"With regard to the visible emission of smoke generally, as effected either by lubrication or by ineffective carburation, the judges found that the cars were, on the whole, successful. From 33 per cent of the cars the carbonic oxide discharged was, on the average of the trials of the two days, under 2 per cent of the whole. The quantity discharged from the other cars was over 2 per cent, and in some cases was considered excessive. The results of the analysis were given to each competitor, with a view to such improvement as the analysis may indicate to be desirable. It is recommended by the judges that a further competition, with fresh entries, be held with the object of further encouragement and of ascertaining the results of any improvements made in the cars not previously satisfactory."

Pointed Paragraphs

College graduates seem to be about the cheapest things going in New York City. A publisher doing business there is quoted as saying that the easiest kind of help to obtain at $12 a week is the recent college graduate. A leading lawyer of New York goes even further by declaring: "It is appalling to find the number of college graduates of long standing who are today filling clerical positions at $10 or $12 per week. For many years it has been possible in New York city to employ at from $10 to $12 per week large numbers of lawyers of over ten years' standing who were graduates of both college and law school."

Mrs. George Cornwallis West (formerly Lady Randolph Churchill) writes to a magazine deploring the extravagance and unrest which characterize London society nowadays. "The young couple who were thought to be well provided fir with $10000 a year now barely subsist on $20,000. The hurry of the age is one of its chief characteristics. To crowd into twenty-four hours the occupations and amusements of a week seems to be the aim and object of most people." In former years pleasantly worded invitations to dinner were universal. Now these have been dropped in favor of such a telephone message as this: "Will Mrs S. dine with Lady T. and bring a man? And if she can't find one she mustn't come, as it would be thirteen."

Bill Nye, the humorist, one had a cow to sell and advertised her as follows: "Owing to my ill health I will sell, at my residence, in township 19, range 18, according to the government's survey, on plush, raspberry cow, aged 8 years. She is of undoubted courage, and gives milk frequently. To a man who does not fear death in any form she would be a great boon. She is very much attached to her present home with a stay chain but she will be sold to anyone who will agree to treat her right. She is one-fourth shorthorn and three-quarters hyena. I will also throw in a double-barrel shot gun, which goes with her. In May she usually goes away for a week or two and returns with a tall red calf with wabbly legs. Her name is Rose. I would rather sell to a non-resident."

An old actor who was not much given to the cheering glass, says the Billboard, one evening went to dine at the club with a friend—met several more, with the result that late in the evening he was "pretty mellow." He left his friends and started home and said to himself: "My boy, you're drunk! What are you going to do about it? I know! I'll go home and read—who ever heard about a drunken man reading?" Well, home he went in a cab—went to the library and commenced to read. Mrs. Actor later appeared on the scene. "What on earth are you doing?" she questioned. "Why—er—can't—you see what I'm doing, my dear? I'm reading." "Reading," said his wife, scornfully, "what are you reading?" He looked at the book, but couldn't see the words, so he said: "That book's been in the house for the last twenty years, so if you don't know I'm not going to tell you." To this his wife replied wrathfully, "You old fool, shut up that valise and come to bed."

TWICE-TOLD FUNNY TALES.

Being very close-fisted, Mason had never allowed himself the costly habit of smoking. He always felt himself a loser when any one treated to cigars. But on one occasion, when the party he was with entered a stationery and cigar store, he made up his mind to have his share of the treat.

"Won't you have a smoke this time?" asked the leader.

"No, but if you don't mind, I believe I'll take a pencil."—Cleveland Leader.

Sullivan insisted that the member in question had every right to speak like an oracle.

"What is your definition of an authority?" suddenly asked Alexander.

"My notion of an authority," instantly retorted "Big Tim," "is a man who bluffs beyond my limit."

AMERICAN WOMEN GATHER TO SEE EGYPTIAN GOBLET

Mrs. H. L. McCormick Pays Fancy Sum for Treasure Formerly Owned by Wizard of Court.

LONDON, July 15.—There was a great gathering of Americans one afternoon last week in response to an invitation from Mrs. L. H. McCormick to "see my new Egyptian treasures."

These treasures include a collection of old earthenware goblets and cups. Among them is one of great size, which is of peculiar interest because it has the reputation of possessing magic powers, having once belonged to a wizard of the court of an early Pharaoh. It is asserted that when misfortune threatens a small column of red smoke issues from the hollow.

Mrs. McCormick had to pay a fancy price for this goblet because its former guardians said a terrible fate was ordained for those who should permit it to be taken away.

This weird object had a great fascination for Mrs. McCormick's guests. Mrs. Whitelaw Reid examined it with great care, and even went so far as to thrust her hand into the goblet, hoping to take unawares the demon lurking inside.

Other American women present were Mrs. Gibbons, Mrs. James MacDonald, Mrs. McCormick Goodhart, Mrs. Ronalds and Mrs. Glasgow.

The long tea-table looked very beautiful, with small round mounds of white roses, from which sprang double garden poppies, colored flags and lilies. Tea was served out of beautiful Sevres and Swansea cups with gold spoons.

BUSY WEEK.

Mrs. James MacDonald entertained every day last week.

Her first entertainment was a big garden party on Monday in Cadogan Square, over which her house looks. The gardens had been transformed for the afternoon. At the base of each tree was placed a bank of hydrangeas and lilies. Orchids on the long buffet had been sent over from France. The peaches and grapes served came originally from the hothouses of Windsor Castle. They were a gift to the hostess from a friend to whom a large quantity had been sent from the castle.

The first part of the afternoon was spent sitting about on easy-chairs on the grass listening to music by a new Hungarian band. Later a sort of game of treasure hide—and—seek was started. The lucky ones found stowed away in most unlikely corners of flowerbeds and other places the daintiest gifts in boxes.

Mrs. MacDonald's salmon pink dress came from Paris, the lace covering it being a part of a French royal bridal robe.

Among the Americans present were Mrs. Ritchie, Mrs. Shonts, the Misses Shonts, Mrs. Glasgow, Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, Mrs. Blackburn Tew, Mrs. William Miller Graham and Mrs. John Dix. The last named gave her friends graphic descriptions of her recent tour in Holland, where she had several unpleasant experiences, including two serious breakdowns.

Mrs. MacDonald's final dinner of the season must have cost a small fortune in roses alone. Each was a picked blossom. The fire-places were carpeted with roses, from among which rose bushes apparently grew; pictures were framed in roses; roses hung in pendants from all the lamps, and roses were seen everywhere. Dinner was served at small tables, each having a rose pyramid in the center. The tables were aranged in a circle, in the center of which was a large pond with floating flowers and real fish. From it sprang a white marble fountain which sent refreshing sprays over the ferns and flowers edging the pool below.

REMUNERATES GUESTS.

Mrs. MacDonald seems to think that no party is enjoyable if the guests are sent away empty-handed. On this occasion those who could explain or imitate tricks performed by a conjurer got pretty prizes.

Princess Hatzfeldt gave an American party last week. Her principal guests were Princess Liechenstein, Jean Reid (who helped her entertain and sat between J. P. Morgan and Captain Gibbons), Lady Cheylesmore, the Marchioness of Duerin, Mrs. Fielding, Miss Fielding, Mrs. T. H. Freeland and one of the Misses Shonts, who is under the wing of Mrs. MacDonald this season.

Lady Arthur Paget gave a dinner this week for the Prince and Princess of Wales, at which the Duchess of Roxburghe dazzled the company with her emeralds—twelve great square-cut stones, each set in flawless diamonds, covering the whole front of her bodice, and six large emeralds forming the center piece of the crown she wore.

After the dinner the whole party went to the Duke and Duchess of Westminster's ball at Grosvenor House. There unmannerly curiosity was displayed by some of the most aristocratic guests, who were anxious to know the precise personal relations of the Duke and Duchess, about whom there has been so much gossip. King Edward had a long and apparently serious talk with the Duke, which it was guessed was a giving of fatherly advice, thought it is more likely that they talked about the outlook for the summer race meeting at Newmarket.

DIAMONDS ARE POISONOUS

The jeweler replaced tenderly in its case the unmounted pear-shaped diamond.

"I could kill you with that," he said. "I could poison you with it. You would die in a few hours."

"But diamonds are not poisonous?"

"Indeed they are; ground up. There have been a number of suicides by diamond dust among gemcutters.

Swallow diamond dust and death will ensue very quickly. The symptoms will be the same as though strychnine had been taken."

WOMEN GETS $1000 FOR SAVING LIFE OF A CHILD

Pretty Nurse Will Devote Neat Sum to Studying Foreign Methods in Hospitals.

CHICAGO, July 15.—Sadie L. Solander, a trained nurse of Chicago, has received $1000 for saving the life of a millionaire's baby. The check was sent to Miss Solander by James W. Glenn, of Bartlesville, I. T., the child's father, who is one of the wealthiest men in the Southwest.

When the boy became sick he was taken to Hot Springs, but as he grew weaker the services of Miss Solander were engaged, and she accompanied the child to Battle Creek, Mich. She cared for him night and day until he was able to be taken home. She was paid for her services, and was greatly surprised on receipt of the check for $1000. Miss Solander will use the money in touring Europe and making a study of foreign methods in hospitals.

PRECIOUS PLANT STONES

Among the many strange things to be found in the Philippine islands are the so-called "plant stones" encountered now and again in certain vegetable growths, says the Chicago Journal.

The bamboo, for instance, according to Kultur and Natur, contains a stone very similar to the opal, but on account of the rarity with which it is found, much more costly than the opal.

In many thousand cane stalks cut down and carefully examined there may perhaps be one in which this beautiful greenish pink scintillating stone has been formed from the minute particles of silicious deposit that imparts its intense hardness to the outer covering of the cane. The bamboo cane stone is known as Tabashirs.

In the interior of some cocoanuts a stone-like secretion is formed that is not inferior in brilliancy to the most beautiful genuine pearl.

MOTHER-IN-LAW MUST NOT TYRANIZE HER SON'S WIFE

Supreme Court of Nebraska Rules That Younger Woman Is Sole Boss of Husband's Household.

OMAHA, Neb., July 15.—At last some relief from the tyranny of the mother-in-law is in sight. Ever since the second generation of man the mother-in-law has held the reins. But now the Nebraska Supreme Court comes to the rescue. With one stroke of the pen the mother-in-law is disposed of. No longer may she reign. Her word is merely that of a stranger with no authority in the home.

Minnie Brewer of Platte County sued her husband, William M. Brewer, for maintenance. She declared that he brought his mother to the home and allowed his parent to boss his wife. The conditions became so intolerable, says the plaintiff, that she returned to her own family and left her husband to live with his mother.

"Every wife is entitled to a home to correspond with the circumstances and conditions of her husband over which she shall be permitted to preside as mistress. The wife does not forfeit her right to maintenance by refusing to live in the home with and under control of her husband's mother."

BUREAU COVERS.

Bureau and stand covers of barred or fleece lined pique are in high favor for country houses on the colonial order. They are usually scalloped all around the sides or trimmed with narrow cotton fringe, prove practical, and keep their prettiness, for they launder beautifully.

CATTLE KING JOE NOSS WINS BET AND WIDOW

Makes Good Boast of Skill as a Speedy Wooer---Large Figure Put Up Is Kept Secret.

FRESNO, July 15.—Joe Nass, a cattle king of Sanger, fifteen miles east of Fresno, and Mrs Augusta Stein were married yesterday by Justice of the Peace Walton of Sanger after a unique courtship. Incidentally Nass won a large sum of money to boot.

Nass had no thought of marrying a week ago. He was rich and a bachelor and had the reputation of being a woman hater. He had no social aspirations until last Sunday.

While discussing matrimony with some friends over a social glass or two Nass bet two to one that if he wished to do so he could win a wife within a week. The bet was taken by George Arnstern and the two put up a large figure—its size has been kept secret.

Nass developed some misgivings later as to his skill as a beau and did not know whom to ask. He finally decided upon Mrs. Angelina Stein, a widow with whom he had become acquainted years ago, but unfortunately he did not know where she lived.

Through an advertisement in a morning paper Nass found that Mrs. Stein lived three miles west of Fresno. After a short courtship she accepted him, but balked at a hasty marriage. Nass explained his predicament, and she agreed to win the bet for him. They were married today by Justice Walton, just within the time limit.

DETECTIVES TRAIL MRS. FRANK J. GOULD ABOUT

Woman Is So Annoyed That She Employs Sleuths to Solve Mystery of Baffling Reports.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Mrs. Frank J. Gould, in her home last night in Greenwich, Conn., said that for the past two months she had been so annoyed by detectives and by reports of strange pursuers on her trail that she had on one occasion herself employed detectives to help solve the mystery of the unwarranted surveillance. She said she had spent a thousand dollars for such service and that the step was taken without the knowledge of Mr. Gould.

"Everybody tells me I am being followed by detectives," she declared. "All my friends warn me, and my servants repeatedly inform me that strange men are on my trail. Only the other day my maid came running to tell me I was being pursued by a man on a bicycle."

Not only did Mrs. Gold spend money to have herself guarded against her watchers, but she also employed detectives to perform the same office for a friend of the family who was also being annoyed in the same way.

"It is all so baffling, so mysterious," she asserted, "for I cannot imagine what reason anyone would have for watching me in this persistent manner."

Admitting that her friends sometimes thought her husband too exacting where her recreations were concerned, and that they accused him often of being jealous of other men's attentions toward her, Mrs. Gould nevertheless maintained that there was no serious trouble between herself and Mr. Gould on that or any other account.

"We had a misunderstanding two months ago," she confessed, "and it looks to others perhaps as if we were not so friendly as formerly, but this is not so. Mr. Gould is in New York most of the time, I am in constant communication with him and he comes to see me. In spite of our little misunderstandings we are on good terms and intend to sail for Europe together in a week or two."

BRIGHT WINDOWS

Windows should never be washed while the sun shines directly on the glass, for this is sure to cause streaks to appear very quickly, says the Pittsburg Press. The glass may, of course, be wiped dry as soon as it is wet, but this makes the labor twice as hard, since one must rub till the glass is dry; this is not at all necessary, nor does it add anything to the appearance when finished. If the glass is very much soiled, and it is necessary to apply the water freely in order to remove the stains and dust, it is better to wash with plenty of water, let the glass dry, and then sponge off as above; the second sponging will remove all streaks made by the first washing. Should the glass become too dry before one returns to finish the drying, it may be sponged.

THE OLD MAID'S PRAYER

By F. B. THAYER.

Dear Lord on high, I supplicate
Here on my bended knee,
That ere two months have passed away
A man you send to me.
I have no charms, likewise no teeth
My hair is dappled gray,
But send a man, no matter who,
And send him right away.

For years and years I've been alone,
No arms no lover held,
No tiny hands have touched my face
No love my bosom thrilled.
And as I never asked for much
Please listen to my wail,
Send me a man marked C. O. D.,
And do it without fail.

I'm not a woman who can pick
Men pleasing to the eye,
Most any man that you may send
Will surely satisfy.
I've lived too long to be exact,
My life draws toward it's end,
I know I'll be most overjoyed
For any man you send.

I don't object to freckled men
Or men with wooden legs,
And if a crippled man you send
I'll handle him like eggs.
The fact is plain, a man I need,
A man of any kind,
So don't hang fire or hesitate
On any man you find.

I'll take a man with double humps,
A wart upon his nose,
Red hair, glass eye, both deaf and dumb,
And bunions on his toes.
So just to help you find the gent
And a quick selection make,
I'll warn you that you don't possess
A man I would not take.

Some years ago when I was young
And yet retained some hair,
I thought myself entitled
To a man most passing fair,
Since then I've changed my tune a bit,
I'll go for what I'm worth,
And take with heartfelt gratitude
Most any man on earth.

That's all I want, my prayer is done,
I wait with throbbing chest,
To get the information
That you'll surely do your best,
And when that shipment shall arrive
I'll wait with baited breath,
Oh, joy! if that box holds a man!
'Twill tickle me to death.

HOSTS OF ELKS INVADING STAID OLD PHILADELPHIA

Streets Jammed With Jolly Humanity; Registration of Delegates Largest in History of the Order.

PHILADELPHIA, July 15.—The opening day of the Elks convention week was greeted with clear, fairly warm weather. From 4:15 a. m., when the first delegation arrived from Mobile, Ala., big hosts of Elks came every hour. Grand Secretary Fred C. Robinson, of Dubuque, Iowa, said today that the registration of delegates to the grand lodge meeting is the largest in the history of the order.

Philadelphia is decorated as never before, and every day until Saturday will practically be a holiday. The streets in the central part of the city are jammed with enthusiastic crowds and the familiar "hello Bill" is heard everywhere.

OPENS TONIGHT.

The conventions of the grand lodge will be formally opened at the Grand Opera House tonight.

The principal address of welcome on behalf of the local lodge will be made by Congressman Moore of this city. Mayor Reyburn and Governor Stuart are expected to extend the hand of welcome. The response will be by Grand Exalted Ruler Henry A. Melvin of California.

The first official entertainment of the grand lodge took place at noon upon the New Jersey side of the Delaware river. The members and their ladies were conveyed in chartered steamers, which, before landing, made a tour of the river, passing the League Island navy yard and the big shipbuilding plants. The festivities at the park began with a clambake and sea food dinner.

TEXAS NEXT TIME.

Every candidate for grand lodge office is here or is represented by energetic agents who buttonhole every delegate that presents himself for registration. John K. Tener, of Charleroi, Pa., the grand treasurer, a candidate for Grand Exalted Ruler, seems to lead for that high honor and his election is freely predicted.

Dallas, Texas, appears to have the field to itself at present as the place for the next convention.

HOTEL PREPARATIONS ARE ON A BIG SCALE

PHILADELPHIA, July 15.—At the Hotel Bellevue-Stratford 800 cots were received in preparation for the Elks. They look more like single metal beds than cots, each one being fitted with a set of bedsprings, a mattress and a pillow.

All the furniture on the first floor of the hotel was stored in a large building rented by Manager McCormick especially for that purpose. There will be nothing in the corridors to interfere with the crowd.

Here, too, extra bar arrangements have been prepared. In addition to the regular bar, a new one is being erected to run the full length of the downstairs buffet, and there will be about twenty bartenders in charge of it.

KEEPS FORCE OF 815 INTACT.

Mr. McCormick says that he will not be compelled to draw upon the Waldorf-Astoria for help. This is due to the fact that the regular working force of 815 men, women and boys is still intact. The usual cutting down for the summer has not been made, and no vacations will be allowed until after the convention.

The 815 will be augmented to 1200 on July 15, or about twice as many servants as there are officers and men in the First regiment. Of the "extras," 200 will be waiters, fifty chambermaids, and fifty cooks. The regular froce of cooks is fifty and during the convention week it will be doubled.

Normally, the capacity of the Bellevue-Stratford is 700 persons, but arrangements have been made to take care of 1500 from July 15 to July 20. Many of the beds have been removed to make way for cots, and one western lodge has rented the ballroom, which will contain 200 cots.

Whatever extra help will be necessary has already been engaged. In planning her work the housekeeper is expecting each chambermaid to make twenty beds and cots a day. These extra cots mean extra bed linen, and big orders have been placed for extra table linen and extra silverware and dishes.

LINEN DEPARTMENT.

To the head of the linen department has been delivered 3000 extra sheets, 600 pillow cases, 10,000 towels, 2000 doilies for the tables in the cafe. On the day of the army and navy football game 10,000 of these doilies were used. Every day there are 3000 napkins used in the hotel; on the day of the army and navy game there were 7200, and it is expected that there will be about 12,000 a day during the convention.

To wash and iron this linen—acres and acres of it—the laundry of the hotel employs a force of forty-five, which will be increased to sixty during the convention.

Martin McLaughlin, the steward, has placed his orders for extra supplies. The food will come from all parts of New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and even from New York state.

Of course, not all of the 250,000 persons who are expected here for the convention will sleep here. At least 100,000 of them will come and go every day from nearby points in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware. Special trains will be run morning and evening on all the railroads, the Pennsylvania planning a special from as far as New York.

PRISONERS ARE STRIPPED NUDE

Attempt of One to Hang Himself Causes Drastic Order by Jail Bosses.

NEW ORLEANS, July 15.—Tony Costel, one of the Italians placed on trial today in St. Charles parish, charged with the kidnaping and murder of eight-year-old Walter Lamana, made an unsuccessful attempt to hang himself in the parish prison here today.

Taking a big pocket handkerchief, Costel knotted it around his neck and then made it fast to the grating of his cell door, while on his tiptoes. Throwing himself back, he succeeded in strangling himself into unconsciousness and was discovered just in time to save his life.

Prison officials then ordered that all of the male prisoners held in connection with the case be stripped and left nude until time to take them to Hahnville.

EXPECT QUICK TRIAL OF FOUR PRISONERS

HAHNVILLE, La., July 15.—Including the impaneling of a jury, which began today, less than a week is expected to suffice for the trial of four Italians for the kidnaping and murder of Walter Laurana, a n New Orleans child.

Not only does public sentiment make a speedy trial desirable, but there are not enough accommodations here for even the officials whose presence is necessary. The jury will be compelled to camp out on improvised beds in one of the court rooms.

It is the prosecution's aim to show that the strangling of the boy was only an incident among many blackmailing schemes on foot among the Italian population of this section.

The four prisoners were brought here today from New Orleans, where they have been since their arrest. They will remain during their trial in the court house jail, with no house excepting the Sheriff's within half a mile. The prisoners are Ignacio Campisano and his wife, Marie Y. Collagero Gendusa and Tony Costel. Compisano is the man who, under compulsion, led a posse into the swamp where the boy's body was concealed.

OVERTURNED AMERICANS IN THE SEA OF OKHOTSK

Russian Gunboat Seizes Papers of Fishing Vessels S. N. Castle, John D. Spreckels and Fremont.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—A report of the voyage of Captain A. Pedersen, commander of the codfishing barkentine S. N. Castle, which arrived in port yesterday afternoon, was filed in the Merchants' Exchange. Strained relations between the United States and Russia may develop. He reported that three fishing vessels—the S. N. Castle, the John D. Spreckels and the Fremont—out from San Francisco and fishing in the waters of the Okhotsk sea, had been overhauled by the Russian gunboat Mandjur, commander unknown, and their papers seized. Seven days of grace were given them in which to leave Okhotsk waters, with the alternative of confiscation of the ships and irons for the crews.

The S. N. Castle and the John D. Spreckels, after waiting until the eve of the sixth day for the Fremont, set sail and were not further interfered with. Part of the Fremont's crew had gone ashore and the vessel was forced to stay more than the alloted time. The Castle, which waited until the gunboat was in sight, was leaving, the officers of the gunboat were boarding the Fremont, which still lay at anchor. The crew's fate is a matter of conjecture.

UNDERSTOOD LAWS.

The fishing law was well understood by the captains, even though they had lost their papers, the fishing vessels and their crews with a Siberia prison. After a consultation the captains decided to return to a home port. Two of the vessels belong to A. B. Pond. The John D. Spreckels is under command of Captain Durt. The S. N. Castle and the John D. Spreckels both sailed from San Francisco bay on April 18. Their voyage to the far north was full of incident and mishaps, which delayed both vessels until they were many weeks late in getting to the fishing grounds.

In the Castle's hold when it arrived here was 18,000 fish, the season's catch. The cargo of the Spreckels is about the same. The fishing fleet was not due to return until September. The United States District Attorney was notified last night of the arrival and will report it to Washington. Whether or not the three vessels were violating the fishing laws will be determined and the matter will then be taken up between the two governments.

On the morning of July 13 the Russian boat hove into sight and that same afternoon its officers went aboard both the Castle and the Spreckels. According to a statement made by Pedersen, the ranking officer of the Russian boat spoke good English and informed them that they were not allowed to fish within thirty miles of the shore. The fleet was then standing eight miles from the beach when the Russian officer ordered them to get out.

KILLED BY FALL FROM WINDOW

Attendant at Southern Asylum Walks Out of Opening During Night.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 15.—Harry H. Robb, an attendant at the Southern California State Hospital for insane at Patton, met with a tragic death some time Saturday night by falling from a third-story window of the institution. He was found at midnight by the watchman, who had been attracted by hearing Robb's groans.

The injured man was still conscious, and informed the watchman that as the night was warm he had moved his bed close to the window, which he had left raised. During the night he arose, and, forgetting the removal of his bed, he stepped from the window, falling the entire three stories to the ground. He died soon after being found.

WILL SING TO AID THE REDS

Finnish Prima Donna Who Has a Life's History Like a Romance.

NEW YORK, July 15.—To sing for her suffering fellow revolutionists and the revolutionary cause in Finland is the mission of Miss Maria Mieler, an Esthonian Prima Donna, who has just arrived here. Miss Mieler is an ardent revolutionist. She was a member of the Finnish women's revolutionary militia organization, singing all over Finland for the benefit of political prisoners, and was eventually locked up in a Russian prison herself.

The Russian revolutionists asked her to sing in St. Petersburg and a great concert was arranged in the Hall of the Conservatory. When she returned to her hotel she was arrested.

BROKE PRISON.

In her cell Miss Mielers sang Russian and Finnish songs and parts from operas. This led to her being freed, thanks to the son of a judge who admired her singing. A forged order for her release was the means he used. Miss Mielers returned to Finland and sang there again, but was finally warned that the police were seeking her arrest. She then decided to come to the United States.

RAINS COMPEL MANY TO MOVE

Des Moines River Rises Rapidly —Rainfall Last Night Is 3.83 Inches.

DES MOINES, Iowa, July 15.—Forty or fifty families have moved from the bottom district of Des Moines to higher ground. The Des Moines river is higher than it has been since 1903, when hundreds of families were driven from their homes. A rise of seven feet will break the levee. This great rise is not feared. Ten acres of lowlands are under water, but the river is stationary. The rainfall Sunday night was 3.83 inches, but lesser rains up the river removes the possibility of general danger unless hard rains continue for two or three days.

KANSAS CITY, July 15.—The western half of Missouri was drenched by a terrific storm last night. Reports received today indicate much damage to cornfields, bridges and culverts in the lowlands in many instances being washed out. Trains from all directions into Kansas City are elayed.

SOUND STEAMER GOES AGROUND IN A FOG

NEW YORK, July 15.—The Long Island Sound steamer Shinnecock, from Newport, L. I., for this city, ran ashore upon the northwest part of Hart Island during a dense fog early today. The Shinnecock is high and dry upon the shore. Tugs have gone to her assistance. Her passengers are not considered in any danger. The wind is light and the water smooth.

The pilot of the Shinnecock was trying to pick his way through the fog when the ship rammed her nose upon the rocks of the northeast end of Hart Island. The 200 passengers on the steamer hurried from their state rooms to the decks when the crash came, but were told by the officers that there was nothing to fear. A hurried examination of the steamer's hull showed that she was leaking very slightly. Police from City Island station put off in launches to the Shinnecock and volunteered to take any passengers who wished to leave the steamer. The passengers seeing that there was no danger, declined to leave, as the officers informed them that a steamer would be sent to take them to New York.

The Shinnecock's officers said they hoped to get the steamer off at high water. Later the passengers were taken off the steamer and conveyed in launches to City Island, where they waited the arrival of the steamer to take them to this city.

Some of the passengers made the trip to the city on the railway cars.

TO LOCATE IN LOCAL CAMP

Orientals, Forced to Leave Portsmouth Square in San Francisco, Decide to Have Homes Here.

(From the San Francisco Examiner, July 15.)

In anticipation of the clearing away of refugee houses on Portsmouth square, as planned by the Board of Supervisors, the Chinese refugee camp in Oakland is preparing to increase its population.

All Chinese who have found shelter in the camp on the square since the fire, and who are still unable to provide for themselves, have been notified by the Six Companies and the Chinese consul that there are ample accommodations for them on the Alameda side of the bay.

The Oakland camp has a population of 110 people, for the most part women and children. It has accomodations for an additional 500. With the prospect of an influx from Portsmouth square, houses that have not been occupied heretofore are being overhauled and refurnished, the lighting facilities are to be increased and aditional water supply is being planned.

OCCUPIES TWO BLOCKS.

The Oakland Chinese refugee camp was constructed after the big fire under the supervision of Major Irwin, the cost being defrayed by the Chinese government and the Six Companies. At the time there were many homeless Chinese refugees in the Alameda county cities, and when Si Chentung Liang, who was then ambassador at Washington, came here to look after his countrymen, he issued instructions for well-equipped refuge camp at the junction of Fortieth and Grove streets.

Two blocks of land were secured and upon them a miniature city, with streets and aleys, water and electric light, was built. Fred Hill, who was chief clerk of the Occidental hotel in San Francisco for ten years, and who was an intimate friend of the Chinese ambassador and Sun Zee Ye, the Chinese consul, was placed in charge.

As an inducement to refugees to take up their home there the Chinese government offered each adult $10, and each child $5 bonus. The result was that about seventy-five children, fifteen women and five men moved into the camp where they are still quartered in the midst of atractive surroundings.

HOUSE RENT IS FREE.

The Chinese authorities provided all initial expenditures. The population is now self-suporting, the only favors extended being free house rent, light and water.

The camp is equipped with a public school building and the Oakland school department provides as teacher Miss Fay Snow, who for the past year has been teaching forty-five children the rudiments of an American primary school education. The camp is also provided with a chapel, where the Salvation army holds services every Sunday morning, which are attended by many of the refugees.

In their new surroundings the Chinese have flourished and appear contented. An abundance of sunshine and fresh air and the absence of narrow alleys and filthy environment has been of special benefit to the children. They are healthy and their mothers seem pleased to remain.

ONLY THREE MEN.

The ground was leased for two years, so the camp will be continued for another year. There are but three men living in the camp. The husbands of the women are for the most part engaged at various kinds of work elsewhere and take care to see that their families are well provided for. In addition the women and the older children are industrious and earn money in many instances by sewing and doing fancy work.

They raise their own vegetables in gardens they have made in the center of the aleys. There is a duck and chicken pen, run on the community of interest plan.

Si Chentung Liang, the retiring Chinese ambassador, who sailed for home on the Korea last Tuesday, spent Monday afternoon in the camp with Consul Sun Zee Ye and pronounced conditions under which the camp was conducted as excellent and instructed the Six Companies to locate there as many destitute Chinese women and children as the camp would accommodate.

CAMP'S MAIN ATTRACTIONS.

One of the attractions of the camp is Miss Ah Fung, a thirteen-year-old girl, who is to be married. Her prospective husband is a rich San Francisco merchant. Miss Ah Fung is quite a belle and dresses at times becomingly in American clothes. Since her advent in the camp she has become skilled in the art of American cooking and the products of her griddle and saucepans are in big demand among visitors.

Mrs. Di Gung is the oldest inhabitant. She is eighty-nine years of age and the mother of fifteen children, six of whom are in the camp. Seven of her grandchildren are also living there. There are two white women residing there, both married to Chinese husbands, Mrs. Lee of Irish nativity, and whose husband is a cook, and Mrs. Quong, who is of Portuguese descent. Four of the Chinese women acknowledge the Christian religion and are regularly enrolled members of the Congregational church.

MILLIONS FOR NEW EQUIPMENT

Harriman Railroads' Increase of Hauling Capacity Offset by Shippers.

NEW YORK, July 15.—According to figures compiled in the New York office of the Harriman railroads, these lines have been spending for the past five years an average of $40,000 every working day for new equipment, or a total of $60,000,000. This year's orders for cars owned by the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific have been increased 66 per cent, and the hauling capacity of their locomotives 69 per cent, as compared to five years ago, while the traffic on these lines has in the same time increased 41 per cent.

That, in spite of this showing, freight delays have occurred in the West, is due mainly to the fact that equipment is tied up by shippers. Cars are not only held overtime for loading and unloading, but thousands are used as storehouses. Records for the past three months show that the average of 3632 cars so held at the principal Pacific Coast shipping points on the Harriman lines equals one-fourth of the new freight cars they have bought for delivery this year.

ST. JOE GETS NO BREAKFAST

Gas Supply From Kansas Cut Off by Washout—Railroad Tracks Swept Away.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 15.—The supply of natural gas in St. Joseph was cut off last night by a break in the pipe line which brings fuel from southern Kansas, and the city was without breakfast this morning, as natural gas is used for fuel in practically all of the houses. The terrific rain last night washed out four lengths of the pipe at Weston, Mo., twenty miles south of St. Joseph. The break had not been repaired at a late hour today.

Gas is used for fuel at the electric plant of the city and the streets were in darkness after midnight. Gas is also used in the typesetting machines by local newspapers and they will be issued today with difficulty.

The rain last night was the heaviest in years. A Chicago and Great Western passenger train, which was due to arrive here from Chicago at 2 o'clock this morning, is held ten miles north of St. Joseph by a washout. The Burlington Railroad reports four bridges out near the city, and service on all lines is demoralized.

S.S.S. KILLS THE GERMS OF MALARIA

When the germs of Malaria get into the blood they destroy the rich, nutritive qualities of this vital fluid and reduce it to such a weak, watery condition that it is unable to furnish the system with the nourishment and strength necessary to keep it robust and healthy. The complexion grows pale and sallow, the appetite fails, digestion is deranged, a bilious condition of the system is set up, and often chills and fever make life miserable for the person in whose blood this insidious poison has taken root. There is but one way to rid the system of Malaria and that is to purify the blood of the germs of the disease, and S. S. S. is the remedy to accomplish this. It goes down into the circulation, destroys the germs, purifies and strengthens the weak, watery blood, making it a rich health-giving and health-sustaining stream, and makes a lasting cure of Malaria. Malarial persons will find S. S. S. not only a prompt remedy but a pleasant acting one, as well as certain cure for this debililitating disease. Besides removing the cause of Malaria S. S. S. builds up every part of the system by its fine tonic effects. Book on the blood containing information about Malaria, and any medical advice desired free to all who write.

SEALS WALLOP BEAVERS TWICE IN SUNDAY GAMES

San Francisco Takes Morning Game 3 to 0 and Repeats in the Afternoon 5 to 4.

By T. P. MAGILLIGAN.

Mr. Long's fastidious athletes caparisioned in white gave to poor McCredie's belated Beavers a double slugging yesterday. They captured the morning game at Freeman's Park 3 to 0, and then went over to San Francisco and, by a brisk eleventh hour rally that sent the bugs and bugettes almost dippy, "jepped" the Beavers again, 5 to 4.

There was nothing startling to the morning game, except the large Mr. Henley. That gent again blue penciled the Beavers 3 to 0. George Wheeler also butted into the spot light by slapping one of Califf's curves out into the sheep pasture back of right field. This wholesome wallop came in the opening inning and was the opening gun in a batting campaign which netted the Seals 3 runs.

There was plenty of baseball in the morning game, but not the kind that would make one rave and tear out his eyebrows.

It was too much of a pitcher's battle for that. Califf, barring the first inning, was in great fettle, and set the Seals down with three hits. Henley wa salso good and he allowed the wayfarers only four hits.

During the morning pastime Nick Williams took a fancy high dive that would have made Cavill and other noted aquatic gents sit up and take notice had they seen it.

In the seventh inning the blonde Nicholas got mixed up in a run up. The Beavers started to peg the ball about the field while Nick hop scotched between first and second. Finally Nick tried to hurdle over Schimpff, but instead got his tootsies tangled up in that gentleman's eyebrows and flopped to the ground.

Nick looked like a flying fish, but instead of having an ocean to drop into, he spilled himself among Clay Hawbaker's hard-boiled dirt, and lay moaning and breathing in the tone of voice that a gent generally takes his air when a Southern Pacific train hits him on the medulla oblongata.

Nick laid stretched out on the sward. Fellow players rushed to the rescue, and after they picked the dark landscape from Nick's light hair, they propped him up and he was ready for further heroic deeds.

With two in the refrigerator in the opener, George Wheeler slipped his toothpick telegraph pole against one of Califf's curves. The ball went over the right field fence, and Wheeler merely loped around. Then Hildebrand drew a pass, and went to third on Irwin's single. Charley stole second. Califf's brain was still buzzing from the noise caused by Wheeler's hard rap and he made a wild heave. Both Hildebrand and Irwin scored on the faux pas.

Then Williams shattered the air in three distinct places. There was nothing else of vital importance in the game. Morning score:

Baseball with the genuine thrill in it was the article presented to the fans so fortunate as to be present when the home team hung it on Portland yesterday afternoon for the second time during the day and made it six out of seven for the series. The man who is a crank on the sceince of the national pastime might have taken exception to some of the plays by which the runs were scored, but not so the great crowd of spectators at the game. They entered into the spirit of the competition and cheered so lustily that they could have been heard many blocks away.

The Seals came up for their turn at bat in the eighth with the score 4 to 0, and they were on the losing end. Quick was the first man up; the first four balls pitched by Hartman were wide ones and the San Francisco pitcher trotted to first. Shaughnessy singled over second and Mohler followed with another single, which filled the bases. The roar of artillery was nothing when compared with the shouts which went up from the spectators. Wheeler skied to third, making the first out. Run No. 1 for the Seals was then forced in when Hildebrand was hit by the pitcher. Irwin showed a good eye by waiting for four bad ones and the second run was registered. As though this were not enough for one inning, a passed ball let in the third run.

The home team was still shy one run of tying the score, but it could not send the next man across. Williams hit to second and forced Hildebrand at the plate and Spencer ended the heartbreaking inning by striking out.

When the bases were filled the first time McCredie took Hartman out of the box and substituted Groom. The latter was not thoroughly warmed up and his wildness contributed to the loss of the game.

Hildebrand became the hero of the game by virtue of his work in the ninth. The Portland men did nothing in their half, a double play cutting short their efforts. The Seals started badly, as Esola went out, second to first. Barney Joy was put in to bat for Quick and worked the pitcher for a pass; Shaughnessy singled over second, Mohler skied to center and Wheeler walked, filling the bases.

Hilde then had his chance to star, and, coupled with the only error of the day, his effort proved successful. He hit a hot one to Earl Casey. The latter had fairly to scoop the ball out of the ground after he broke it down. He then threw to Atherton at first to cut off the batter, but Atherton dropped the ball. Oscar Jones, who was running for Joy, and Shaughnessy scored and the great game was won then and there.

Alameda Wins One, Loses the Other

ALAMEDA, July 15.—In a double-header played here yesterday between the Alameda and San Francisco teams each side came out victor in a game. # Jimmy Arlitt to Umpire Here

Jimmy Arlitt, well known in Oakland baseball circles, is to be given a trial by President Cal Ewing on his staff of umpires. Derrick is to accompany the Portland and 'Frisco teams to Portland and Perrine is scheduled to umpire the Los Angeles-Oakland series. Perrine is to be given a slight rest, and while he is on his brief vacation Jimmy Arlitt will handle the indicator.

Arlitt has had considerable experience as an umpire, and all his friends in Oakland are pulling for him to make good.

Stockton Defeats Cordovas Easily

STOCKTON, July 15.—By defeating the Cordovas of Sacramento here yesterday by a score of 5 to 3, the Stockton team assumed the lead in the State League pennant race. It was a great game, and a large crowd was on hand to see the contenders for first honors battle.

Fred Brown pitched a good game for the Cordovas, but the Slough City boys found his delivery freely in two innings, and won handily.

Brown proved the hero of his own side. His three-base hit in the fourth inning with three men on bases was the feature of the day. The score:

Oakland Team Beats San Jose

SAN JOSE, July 15.—The Oakland State League team showed a very fair article of baseball here yesterday and won from San Jose by a score of 4 to 2. Arrellanes, who is considered good enough for the big league, was easy for Oakland, and they batted him out of the box in the fourth inning. San Jose made a desperate effort to win the game towards the end, but the Oakland boys maintained a strong defense and carried the game home with them. The score:

NELSON-BRITT REFEREE MAY BE SELECTED THIS EVENING

Willus Wagtail and Slippery Billy Will Meet Tonight to Select Third Man in the Ring.

By EDDIE SMITH.

Tonight Billy Nolan and Willus Britt will meet and settle the last important detail to the return match between James Edward Britt and the durable Dane, Battling Nelson.

The selection of a referee is the last thing left for the rival managers to chew over and tonight is the time set forth in the articles of agreement for the men to make a choice.

Several names have been mentioned, but it is understood that both Britt and Nolan have gone over the list and that it is now cut down to two or three eligibles, from which the men will choose tonight.

Nolan has been at Tahoe with Nelson, but is expected back tonight in time for the meeting. In case he does not arrive the meeting will be held Tuesday night, as both Greggains and Willie Britt are anxious to have the third man selected.

Greggains is of the opinion that the public will have more confidence in the contest if a man is chosen that has, in previous contests, shown himself to be fearless and honest.

The Auditorium Rink, where the contest will be held, is about the same sort of a building as the old Mechanics' Pavilion, and when the seats are arranged it is said the same arrangement as the fight fans enjoyed at the old fight pavilion will prevail.

Britt and Nelson have both reported that they are in good condition and that they will be ready for the fracas when the bell sends them to the center of the ring. At the time Squires was training for his contest and the other fighters, including Britt, were training at the same time, the fight fans had a splendid opportunity to see the native son at his work and get a line on his condition.

The comment from most of the form students was that they had never seen Britt in the condition that he was in at that time.

Nelson is the mystery in the coming fight. He has not been on the ground long enough to give the sporting people a chance to get a line on him and as there has been so much talk of his not being as good now as he was previous to the Gans fight at Goldfield there is considerable speculation on the chances of his condition.

This speculation on the condition of the Battler gives promise of becoming very intresting, and the number of people that will be fooled by the Dane's workouts will number into the hundreds.

Nelson is absolutely the worst gymnasium worker that ever reached the top ranks of pugilism. He is not in the least a showy fellow and goes about his work in a rather clumsy manner

When Nelson was training for his second meeting with Britt, in which contest he won, Britt was made a favorite in the betting and it is a well known fact that this was brought about, not because the people thought Nelson was an easy one, but that the continual reports of Nelson's bad condition sent many of the fans who would ordinarily have bet on his chances without seeing him work to his training camp. After leaving the camp most of them refused to make a bet on his chances and many switched to Britt.

At that time Nelson was boxing with Bob Lundie and to watch the two in the gymnasium would be to say that Lundie could beat the Dane. He seemed to have perfect control over the battler and hit him whenever he wanted to. The story then went out and traveled like wild fire that the once tough little fellow had shot his bolt and that he was all in.

I visited the training camp at Colma in company with one of the best judges of condition in San Francisco and to my surprise he, like the others, said Nelson was not in good condition and expressed the opinion that Lundie could beat him if he desired to.

The day of the fight he entered the ring in the same condition that he did for all his fights and was the same tough, hard-hitting battler that he had been in his previous contests.

There will be plenty of talk about Nelson not being in good condition for this contest, but don't pay much attention to it unless you have good reason to believe yourself that the Dane has shot his bolt.

* * *

Joe Gans has arrived in Oakland and today will have a meeting with Joe Thomas and James Coffroth for the purpose of talking over a fight with Thomas for the welter weight championship.

Coffroth is particularly anxious to get the contest and will advise Gans to accept the offer for a contest at Colma.

Jack Gleason will also whisper in the ear of the colored fighter and try and induce him to accept a San Francisco date at the ball grounds.

Thomas wants the fight and is holding off from other engagements for the purpose of getting the negro to sign articles.

Gans is under a promissory contract to fight for Tex Rickard in Nevada, and the contest that Tex wants is a fight between the winner of the Britt-Nelson fight and the champion. With this fight in view it may be that Gans may hold off until after the Britt-Nelson fight before signing with any other fighter.

Joe wants to fight Nelson or Britt again and has no particular love for either. If the chances are fair for a fight with one of them he will no doubt put the Thomas fight over until such time as he has met the light weight.

Large Crowd Sees The Harness Races

Quite a large crowd turned out to see the harness races at the Alameda race-track yesterday afternoon.

Because Kitty D injured her knee the big special match race for a thousand dollars between her and George Giannini's George Perry was called off. This feature was the one that attracted most of the spectators. A. Hofman, owner of Kitty D, had to forfeit $300 as a result of the non-appearance of his performer.

In the 2:30 class, with a stake of $150, Fly, owned by Charles Becker, won in straight heats over R. Green's Don L, in 2:33 and 2:29. A strong wind, against which the horses had to contend on the back stretch, had a material effect on the time.

The real contest of the day was in the 2:20 class, for which a purse of $180 was offered. The entries were Charles J, owned by Charles Lecari of Alameda, and Little Dick, from the stable of Luke Marisch. Charles J won the first heat in 2:20 and seemed a likely winner in the second, but the race was awarded to Little Dick in 2:19¾, the judges refusing to allow the claim of foul made in behalf of Charles J. This necessitated a third heat, in which Little Dick led the way to the tape.

The owner of Charles J was by no means satisfied as to the relative merits of the two horses and offered to bet Luke Marisch $1000 on a similar race to be held on July 28. It is probable that the offer will be taken up.

In a special race for $200, A. Schwartz's Clara L carried off the honors from Ring Rose, owned by M. Donnelly, in 2:20.

The officials of the meet were: Judges, Joseph McTigue, James O'Kane and Thomas Cochran; starter, Tom Kenney; timekeepers, Jack Posteno and George Giannini. McTigue is president of the club; Kenney, vice president; A. Schwartz, secretary, and F. Lauterwasser, treasurer.

C. H. Collier Is Best Shot

C. H. Collier proved the high gun in every one of the four events of the Empire Gun Club, which closed its 1907 season at the Empire grounds in Alameda yesterday.

Bert Patrick also displayed high skill in the shooting events. None of the other members showed the high class that their friends expected them to display. The detailed scores and the prizes follow. The scores are the totals made in the five shoots.

Club championship—C. H. Collier, 99, $20 and gold club lapel button; Bert Patrick, 89, $15; W. O. Cullen, 83, $10; J. Peltier, 80, $5.

Money match—Collier, 77, $6; Patrick, 70, $4.50 and gold cuff buttons, Collier forfeiting this trophy by winning the championship button; Peltier, 64, $3 and silver cuff buttons.

Special handicap race, 20 birds, 10 pairs, distance handicap—Collier, 64, $10; Patrick, 60, $7.50; Peltier, 58, $5; Cullen, 43, $3.75.

Sweeney record medal ("hit and out" event)—Collier, 21, gold medal, appropriately inscribed; Otto Feudner, 18; B. Hillis, 11. Second and third guns divided a side pool, 60 and 40 per cent respectively, made up of entrance fee.

For the last Sunday shoot $20 was divided among the contestants, as follows: Collier, 20, $6; Peltier, 19, and J. B. Hauer, 16, dividing second money, $4.50; Cullen, 13, and Patrick, 16, third money, $3; Reuben Mastick, 11, $1.50.

The club's game season opens in Monterey county on October 1. The officers are as follows: W. W. Van Arsdale, president; Floyd S. Judah, vice-president, and J. B. Hauer, secretary-treasurer.

West Oakland Club Has a Fine Card

The West Oakland Club has arranged what should prove a very snappy card for their Wednesday evening show.

The piece de resistance will be the bout between Jack Brown of the Hayes Valley Athletic Club and Henry League. This pair of scrappers will furnish the main event of the evening's show.

Eddie Lennon and Henry Dell will furnish one of the special bouts, while Young Casey and George Leahy will furnish the other.

Joe Lee, the Peruvian B'ar, and "Kid" Turner, the pride of the Oakland newsboys, will furnish one of the preliminaries. The last time this pair hooked up they furnished one of the most sensational bouts seen at the club in months.

Young Sharkey vs. Frankie Flynn and Ed White vs. Al Canute will be the other prelims.

Yacht Perhaps Meets Accident

The race of the California Yacht Club for the Wallace trophy yesterday was postponed on account of the serious accident which befell Vice Commodore John J. Sherry's sloop Perhaps in being in collision with a dredger at Alameda point, starting the yacht's starboard streak and planking to such an extent that she sunk at her moorings. After considerable work raising the yacht and applying temporary means of stopping the leak it was found that the same would not justify the regatta committee in sending a disabled boat into the race, and as the holder of the trophy, Captain J. M. Kendall of the sloop Alert, and the defender insisted upon giving the Perhaps time to repair her damage so that she could contest in the race and likewise Captain Louis T. Ward of the yawl Iola, who was anxious to try conclusions with the Perhaps, it was decided to sail the race on July 28, on the channel course, as previously announced.

Carl Gardner Is In Great Shape

Carl Gardner and Melville Long were the successful players in the third of the series of interesting tennis matches in San Francisco yesterday.

Harry Rolfe won the first class, E. P. Finnigan, second class; N. Burroughs, third class, and Dr. Noble the fourth class.

The defeat of Maurice McLoughlin by Carl Gardner furnished quite a surprise. Gardner also defeated Herbert Long. The winner was in great fettle, and if he can show the same class in the finals he has a very good chance to beat Melville Long.

The scores:

Championship class, preliminary round—Carl Gardner beat Maurice McLoughlin, 6-4, 6-3; Melville Long beat George Janes, 6-4, 7-5. Semi-finals—Carl Gardner beat Herbert Long, 7-5, 1-6, 6-2; Melville Long beat Charles Foley, 6-3, 6-3.

First class—Harry Rolfe beat Harold Gabriel, 6-4, 6-4; B. F. Nourse beat George Busch, 7-5, 7-5. Final—Rolfe beat Nourse, 6-2, 6-2.

Second class—E. P. Finnigan beat W. G. Knowlton, 6-3, 6-2. Final—Finnigan beat H. R. Elliott, 3-6, 6-1.

Third class, finals—H. Burroughs beat H. E. Punnett by default.

Amateur Notes.

ALAMEDA, July 15.—The Krieg and Halton baseball team journeyed to Point Richmond yesterday morning and were beaten by a score of 6 to 1 by the nine at the point. The Zingg team, another local aggregation was defeated last Sunday by a similar score.

The bunch of ball players known as the "Cosgrove Stars" put it on to a bunch that called themselves the "Cornucopia Eaters," last Friday at the Lake diamond by the score of 5 to 1.

This is twenty straight for the Cosgrove Stars, running across no team this season, of their age, that could beat them.

The Cosgrove Stars' battery was the same as ever: Witter and Pease, while the opposing battery was Larue and Monrow.

In about three weeks from now the Cosgrove Stars will resume playing, at present many members being on a vacation.

The officials who handled the race were T. J. Kavanaugh, Charles Gerlach and Al Thedy.

The Crowd Wins Ingleside Stake

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—The greyhounds from the kennel of Louis Lagomarsino ran first and second in the open stake yesterday at Ingleside coursing park. The crowd, the winner, took final honors by default from Roman Actress, which was withdrawn in the final test owing to severe running.

It was a bad day for favorite players, as many well-backed choices failed to do what was expected of them. In the run-down of the open stake several good things went amiss.

The Governor, a Sacramento dog, and Dun Boy showed up well, going into the semi-final round.

Pabst Purity

The way Pabst secures absolutely pure yeast for fermenting beer proves the care that surrounds every step in making Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer.

To secure an absolutely uniform fermentation, Pabst takes a single cell from its millions of fellows in the drop of pure yeast, and from this one cell grows or cultivates the yeast required for each brew.

Pabst Blue Ribbon

is fermented in hermetically sealed vats. From the time it is brewed until it is bottled it never comes in contact with the atmosphere or human hands. It is then properly matured or aged in air-tight, cold-storage tanks.

When ordering beer, ask for Pabst Blue Ribbon.

is to 1, may be told in a sentence. Los Angeles found Eli Cates. To those who know the game the extent to which it found him will be appreciated when it is stated that the Los Angeles batsmen lined out four doubles and seven singles. Two causes contributing to the general result were that he passed two men and that Oakland made three bad errors. That is how Los Angeles piled up ten runs. How Oakland made the one lone tally credited to it is of no interest, but it was wholly accidental and was soon forgotten. The score:

WANTS SOBER SON-IN-LAW

Henry Jackson, a wealthy Indian, living on the Klamath reservation in Oregon, wants a suitable white husband for his daughter and has offered a large sum, some say $50,000, for such a son-in-law as will find favor in his sight. Above everything the candidate must be a foe of liquor, the redman's worst enemy. Jackson's own son, once a fine young man, has fallen a victim to firewater and is now dying of consumption. The Jackson herds are growing fast and the old Indian wants a son-in-law capable of managing them.

That's the time to take a Cascaret.

* * *

One tablet taken whenever you suspect you need it will insure you against 90 per cent of all other ills likely to attack you.

Cascarets don't purge, don't weaken, don't irritate, nor upset your stomach.

They stimulate the Bowel Muscles to contract and propel the Food naturally past the little valves that mix Digestive Juices with Food.

This stronger action produces greater nutrition from food and perfect elimination of useless materials.

It makes the blood purer, healthier and more reconstructive, insuring a fine, clear color and complexion.

Then carry the little ten-cent box constantly with you in your purse, and take a Cascaret whenever you suspect you need it.

All Druggists sell them—over ten million boxes a year, for six years.

Pabst Purity

The way Pabst secures absolutely pure yeast for fermenting beer proves the care that surrounds every step in making Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer.

To secure an absolutely uniform fermentation, Pabst takes a single cell from its millions of fellows in the drop of pure yeast, and from this one cell grows or cultivates the yeast required for each brew.

Pabst Blue Ribbon

"The Beer of Quality

is fermented in hermetically sealed vats. From the time it is brewed until it is bottled it never comes in contact with the atmosphere or human hands. It is then properly matured or aged in air-tight, cold-storage tanks.

Angeles found Eli Cates. To those who know the game the extent to which it found him will be appreciated when it is stated that the Los Angeles batsmen lined out four doubles and seven singles. Two causes contributing to the general result were that he passed two men and that Oakland made three bad errors. That is how Los Angeles piled up ten runs. How Oakland made the one lone tally credited to it is of no interest, but it was wholly accidental and was soon forgotten. The score:

WANTS SOBER SON-IN-LAW

Henry Jackson, a wealthy Indian, living on the Klamath reservation in Oregon, wants a suitable white husband for his daughter and has offered a large sum, some say $50,000, for such a son-in-law as will find favor in his sight. Above everything the candidate must be a foe of liquor, the redman's worst enemy. Jackson's own son, once a fine young man, has fallen a victim to firewater and is now dying of consumption. The Jackson herds are growing fast and the old Indian wants a son-in-law capable of managing them.

Eat a Cascaret whenever you suspect you need it. Carry a little 10c Emergency box constantly with you, in your Purse or Pocket.

When do you need one?

—When your Tongue is coated.
—When you have Heartburn, Belching, Acid Risings in Throat
—When Pimples begin to peep out.
—When your stomach Gnaws and Burns.

That's the time to check coming Constipation, Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

That's the time to take a Cascaret.

* * *

One tablet taken whenever you suspect you need it will insure you against 90 per cent of all other ills likely to attack you.

Cascarets don't purge, don't weaken, don't irritate, nor upset your stomach.

They stimulate the Bowel Muscles to contract and propel the Food naturally past the little valves that mix Digestive Juices with Food.

This stronger action produces greater nutrition from food and perfect elimination of useless materials.

It makes the blood purer, healthier and more reconstructive, insuring a fine, clear color and complexion.

Then carry the little ten-cent box constantly with you in your purse, and take a Cascaret whenever you suspect you need it.

All Druggists sell them—over ten million boxes a year, for six years.

Be very careful to get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "CCC." 751

A GOOD INVESTMENT.

Frank Eddy used to have a friend who never was known to stand treat to anything—neither dinner, drinks, cigars, theater nor opera. One day, meeting him by chance, he said earnestly: "Just the man I want to see, Charley; if you want to make a little money right quick I've got a good investment." All eagerness, Charley wanted to know everything, but Eddy whispered: "It isn't safe to speak of a matter of this kind in a public street. Where can we go and talk privately?" "Why, let's step into this cafe and have a drink and a chat." "Good enough." Two whiskies were ordered and disposed of. "How much?" asked Charley. "Twenty-five cents," said the bartender. Having cast down his quarter, Charley said to his friend: "Now, what about that investment?" "You've already made it, and have the profits in your pocket." "What do you mean?" "Well, you always drink alone at 15 cents a drink, two for 30 cents. You and I have just had two drinks for a quarter; therefore by investing 25 cents you have saved a nickel. Good morning."—New York Press.

AFRAID TO GO HOME

Honolulu Map Anticipates Ridicule Because Exasperatingly Misquoted by Eastern Newspapers.

Edward C. Brown of Honolulu, Hawaiian representative of a large Chicago drug and chemical firm, says he fears to return to his home city because of interviews printed in some Eastern papers, which misquote him in an exasperating manner. One paper in Indiana called him a "wealthy sugar planter." Another made him say the islands were in a bad way because of the influx of Japanese. A southern paper quoted him as saying that "plantations were flourihing on one of the islands where vegetation is very sparce."

"When I get home I expect all kinds of jokes at my expense," said Brown. "Some of the Easterners seemed to think that any one from the Hawaiian Islands ought to be copper-colored and tallk some kind of a South Sea dialect."

SCIENTIFIC LANGUAGE.

"No wonder," said a poet, "taht no one cares to read the works of Haeckel, Darwin, Spencer, Huxley, and so on. These men have much to say, but they don't know how to say it. They have never taken the time to learn to write."

He drew forth his notebook from his pocket.

"When Professor Thomson," he resumed, "hit on a new variety of cathode rays he announced his discovery in these terms:

"'Of and orthocathodic character, a deflectible fluorescent excitant; of a paracathodic character, a deflectible fluorescent non-excitant; of a diacathodic character, a non-deflectible fluorescent non-excitant; of an isocathodic character, a deflectible, non-fluorescent, non-excitant'—and so on for forty or fifty pages."

LITTLE FLORENCE OUTPUT MAY BE 100 TONS DAILY

GOLDFIELD, July 15.—The big 60-horse-power electric hoist has been installed over the Mohawk Florence shaft and Dr. Robinson estimates that the output from the Little Florence and the Hohawk Florence sub-lease, all of which is being taken out through this shaft, will average 100 tons a day, beginning the first of the week. As the work has heretofore been performed by a 15-horse-power hoist, with a record of between fifty and sixty tons a day, the prediction seems a modest one.

It is semi-officially announced that the Little Florence will declare a dividend of ten cents a share on the first of July. A like dividend will be declared at about the same time by the Mohawk Florence. As the Little Florence has $300,000 in its treasury and the Mohawk Florence has considerably over $100,000, there is no financial obstacle in the way of the proposed dividends, which will undoubtedly be welcomed by the stockholders in the two companies.

Mill returns from the Goldfield Nevada Reduction works from June 20 to June 27 inclusive, give figures on 196.7 tons of ore from the Little Florence. The values of the ore handled during that time ranged from $114 66 a ton to $266.59 and the net returns after deducting all charges for handling, treating, etc, amounted to $28,357.45.

During the same period the Goldfield Nevada Reduction works treated 51 84 tons ore received from the Higginson lease on the Jumbo Extension which netted $10,639.99, while 249.8 tons of ore from the Mohawk Jumbo lease on the Jumbo Extension for the same period netted $8599.14. The Mohawk Jumbo ore, however, was not sorted or sacked, but shipped as it came out of the drift. The shipments from both these leases have been retarded during the last ten days by the necessity of making certain repairs and installing new machinery.

WALK OVER MINE SHOWS MORE HIGH GRADE ORE

RENO, July 15.—The Walkover Mining company continues with most active development on its grass-root mine and will soon have equipment on the ground to put a shaft down

A strike made on the hanging wall side of the ledge has been followed by others They continue to find rich veins of ore as the crosscut advanced, all of which carry high values in gold and all are free milling The strike of the large shoot was of very great importance to the mine Over three feet of porphyritic quartz, carrying values better than $150 per ton, was uncovered and this within twenty-five feet from the surface Such early and big results was rather a surprise, although it has been known for a long while that the very best surface pannings were to be had.

With the right sort of development the Walkover mine has every chance to become one of the richest in this district. There is no question of the ledge being extensive and also rich. It outcrops realy the claim length and crosscutting has shown it to be seventy-five to 100 feet wide Open trenches and minor shafts have been sunk on it, and in every one of them it is easy to obtain rich pannings from the oxide ores.

This district can be assured the mine will be given the strongest kind of attention by the owners. Goldfield and Utah capital is interested and Captain A. H Mayne, vice-president of the Ramsey-Comstock mine, is at the head of the Walkover company. The principal owners are energetic and practical mining men who may be depended on to give this choice property the most active development.

ANTHRACITE MINERS SATISFIED WITH WAGE SCHEDULE ADOPTED

NEW YORK, July 15.—It is announced by the anthracite operators that the miners are at last presumably satisfied with the way they are being treated, and in support of this claim the fact is pointed to that at last, after four years of activity, the board of conciliation, created to settle disputes between men and employers in 1902, have at last a clean docket before them.

During the four years of the commission's existence 139 differences between the coal operators and their employes have been settled. The board itself has disposed of 132 of the cases, [illegible] it [illegible] to refer only [illegible] umpire. Of the grievances [illegible] only one was [illegible] by the [illegible] representing all the miners. Thirteen were presented by the operators and 146 by the miners. Of the board's decisions 29 cases were sustained, 155 not sustained or withdrawn, and 15 settled, "through the influence of the board."

Atchison and Amalgamated Copper were up 1, National Lead 1½, and St. Paul, American Locomotive and Erie seconds ½.

Bonds were steady.

The extreme dullness of the demand allowed prices to sag, the reaction running to a point in the leaders Small buying was effective in checking the fall.

The market closed dull and weak The most important of the earlier gains were reduced to fractions and the average level of prices receded to below Saturday.

TRADE IN CHINA.

Great Britain controls 19.42 per cent of China's exports and 47 34 per cent of her imports, or about one-third of the Celestial Empire's total foreign trade. Next in importance, according to Chinese official reports, are the United States and Japan.

Statistics of China's postal service record a wonderful increase, namely, from 76,000,000 pieces of mail in 1899 to 113,000,000 pieces in 1905.

Japanese preferential rates on the Manchurian Railway, as the Newchwang returns indicate, are effectively diverting the trade of the northern provinces from that port to Dalny. It costs more to have goods transported 330 miles from Newchwang than it does for 465 miles from Dalny.

The trade of Kiao-chau continues to show a remarkable development, the revenue having doubled since 1904.

The consumption of foreign opium has increased in all provinces except Kiang-si and Che-Kiang.

WALL-STREET RUMORS THAT FISH MAY GET THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL

NEW YORK, July 15.—The Wall street and financial circles are agitated by persistent rumors that Stuyvesant Fish may gain secure control of the Illinois Central According to some of the stories he believes he may count upon the support of President Harahan, who, it is said, is displeased with E H Harriman for various reasons being offered as examples his brother and sons being offered as examples

The government attacks upon the Union Pacific and other Harriman deals are also said to have alarmed financiers, who would be glad, it is said, if the Illinois Central were returned to its former conservative management

All rumors are in the air and no one will be quoted, but they continue to circulate, Something definite is expected at the meeting Wednesday, as an especial effort is being made to bring in every vote possible. Sensational developments, according to current stories, may be looked for at the October meeting It is known that Stuyvesant Fish has written or wired Governor Deneen of Illinois to attend the meeting.

MOTHER OF 18 CHILDREN DIES FROM MALPRACTICE

Efforts to Be Made to Find Physician Responsible, Who Is Believed to Reside in San Francisco.

It is believed that a San Francisco doctor performed a criminal operation in that city which caused the death yesterday of Mrs. Ida F. Del Monte at East Bay Sanitarium.

Coroner Tisdale is in search of the person suspected of the crime, and if found he or she will be vigorously prosecuted.

Mrs. Del Monte was the wife of Francisco Del Monte, a well-to-do rancher living near Martinez. She was the mother of eighteen children, though only 41 years old. A week ago she went to San Francisco where, she afterwards admitted, she had been the subject of a criminal operation. She declined to divulge the name of the person who performed the operation.

Mrs Del Monte returned to Martinez very ill. Peritonitis set in and she came to Oakland where she consulted Dr. J. M. Shannon. He ascertained that the woman was in a serious condition and sent her to East Bay Sanitarium. It was to Dr. Shannon that Mrs. Del Monte admitted the operation was performed in San Francisco.

SINKS RAPIDLY.

Dr. Shannon immediately notified the police department, but before a statement could be secured the woman sank rapidly and died. Such statement as Dr. Shannon had already obtained was turned over to the coroner.

Dr. Smith, the house surgeon at East Bay, is also on record as to there being evidence of an operation having been performed on Mrs. Del Monte.

After the woman had died her body was removed to Albert Brown's undertaking parlors, the cause of death being given as peritonitis, but from what he had been told Coroner Tisdale felt it his duty to make a searching investigation into the cause of the woman's demise.

Dr. Shannon states that when Mrs. Del Monte applied to him for treatment he realized that she was suffering from the effects of an operation, and that he hesitated about taking the case. He made the conditions known to the woman's friends, and said he would do all he could to alleviate her sufferings, as death seemed to be inevitable.

Mrs. Del Monte became unconscious shortly after she came to him and remained in that condition until her death, and he was not able to learn from her who had operated on her.

No inquest will be held until Coroner Tisdale has further investigated. He expects soon to find the alleged criminal practitioner.

SCHMITZ TRIAL ON SECOND EXTORTION CHARGE SET

One of Four Indictments Against Former Mayor to Be Heard Before Jury Early in August.

(TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENCE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—Ex-Mayor Schmitz will be placed on trial again in Judge Dunne's court on Monday, August 10. The time was fixed this morning and the prosecution announced that it would select one of four indictments against the former Mayor charging him with extortion similar to the one on which he was convicted.

Schmitz listened to the preparations for another trial with little apparent concern.

His attorneys requested that the District Attorney present sufficient notice of the case selected for trial at that time.

Attorney Fairall, in behalf of his client, entered a motion asking that the bill of exceptions set for a hearing on July 30 be taken up earlier if possible. Judge Dunne fixed the date last Saturday, thereby complying with the writ of mandate issued by the District Court of Appeals. Schmitz' attorneys regarded this as their first point scored against Judge Dunne.

Attorney Cobb offered for the prosecution to take up the bill of exceptions, suggesting that counsel might agree upon it and thus obviate a hearing. Judge Dunne promised to sign the bill whenever it was agreed upon.

INJURIES END VETERAN'S LIFE

Captain Douglas served in the navy during the civil war and at its close came to this coast. He was the first officer to take a revenue cutter into Alaskan waters. For many years he was a deep-sea pilot and for nineteen years was in the service of the ferry system of the Southern Pacific, and for many years was the first officer on the ferry boat Transit.

Seven months ago Captain Douglas was injured in San Francisco by being dragged by a street car. He never recovered from his injuries. He was a native of England, 71 years of age and is survived by a wife.

BURGLARS AND HOLDUPS BUSY

Office Door of Hotel Is Forced and $72 Stolen—Footpads Rob Victims.

Burglars, smart thieves and a horde of petty pilferers are busy these days in this city, according to complaints lodged at police headquarters by persons who assert that they have suffered losses.

G. E. Barroarroyo today made known that the office door of the New Zealand hotel at 408 Sixth street, was forced Sunday night and $72.50 and a gold ring taken by the burglar.

IN CAMPBELL STREET.

Mrs. Sarah Leveau of 861 Campbell street is mourning the loss of $21, which sum she says was stolen from beneath a mattress in her house yesterday.

Cibarra Basquale of the Colombo hotel at Second and Broadway, states that a thief invaded the hotel bar and stole a roll of blankets, two pairs of shoes and an assortment of other articles.

J. O. Broden of 538 Thirty-eighth street has informed the police that at 11 30 last night two men held him up at Thirty-eighth and Grove street, robbing him of $27.50.

William A. Hadley of Roosevelt Hospital, Berkeley, says that at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon he was held up on Third street, between Broadway and Washington, by two men who took $1.50 and a flask of whisky from him.

Fred Marsh of 860 Pine street, West Oakland, states that while he was walking along near the corner of Seventh and Pine, he was knocked down by a footpad, who hit him on the head with a club. Before the footpad could rob his victim a pedestrian was heard approaching and the robber fled.

HORSE STEPS ON SLEEPER'S HEAD

While enjoying a quiet noonday sleep in a box stall at the Second street planing mill today, John Roune, a watter, was stepped on by a horse being led in by M. E. Thomas of the planing mill. Before Rouny was discovered, the horse stepped on his head, making a gash. The wound was dressed at the Receiving Hospital by Warden Page.

MUST PAY $25 FOR HUNTERS' LICENSES

In reply to the many queries sent every day to the District Attorney's office, Chief Deputy District Attorney W. H. Donahue has prepared a statement which gives the correct information to aliens who are trying to avoid the payment of $25 for a hunters' licenses. Those who have recently arrived in this country and have filed their declaration of intention to become a citizen, claim that they should be permitted to take out a license on the payment of $1. The law states that persons not citizens of the United States must pay $25. In his letter to the County Clerk, Donahue quotes the law that says these persons are not citizens of the United States until they have taken the final oath as required by the naturalization laws, so must take the alternative of paying $25 a year for the privilege of hunting.

DESCENDANT OF FINE RIDERS.

Among the fair equestriennes to put the steeds through the paces at the horse show at Baltimore was Miss Agnes Elsie Whiteford Palmer of Mount Washington. Miss Palmer, who is but 14 years of age, is one of the finest feminine riders in Maryland. She comes by her horsemanship naturally, for her mother and her maternal ancestors for generations back have been fine horsewomen. Mrs. Palmer in her younger days was a fine rider, but not the equal of her daughter, who has been riding ever since she can remember.

Her first horse was a black broncho named Dolly, still in the possession of the family, but it has been long since Miss Palmer consented to ride Dolly. She has ridden race horses now for a couple of years, and prefers the excitement of a horse of mettle to a sedate broncho. Miss Palmer, who resides just across from Pimlico track, has had good opportunities to improve her riding, and she has taken advantage of them. She has ridden the famous Cigarlighter, Hanthorne, Ren Swift, Abel, Cadichon, Burns, DeCarnet and a host of others that have gone to the Baltimore meet.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

NIGHT WATCH FOUND DEAD

Discovered Seated in Office of His Employers With Feet on Desk.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—W. M. Richards, night watchman for Lali & Company, a plumbers' supply house at First and Folsom streets, was found dead in the company's office this morning.

The discovery was made by Shipping Clerk E. H. Bell, who was the first of the employes to arrive. When he entered the office as usual at 7 o'clock has was surprised to see Richards sitting in a chair, with his feet resting on a desk, apparently asleep. On approaching nearer, however, he found that the man was dead. He immediately summoned Officer McCormick, who in turn notified the coroner.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cody, who live a few doors up on Folsom street, were the last persons to see the man alive. Richards called on them for a short time last evening. Death is supposed to have resulted from natural causes.

STEAMERS RACE FROM NEW YORK TO AUSTRALIA

NEW YORK, July 15.—A race to Australia as in the old days—but by steam, not by sail, has just begun from this port.

Two heavilly laden freight steamers, one a German and the other British, are the racers. The former is the El Bring, which is in the service of the Tyser Line, and her rival is the Bolivian of the United States and Australia line. There is keen rivalry between these companies in sending freight to the Antipodes. The two vessels will make one of the longest ocean runs in the world from here to St. Vincent, Cape Verde Islands, where they will coal, and thence around the Cape of Good Hope to Freemantle, West Australia. It will probably be fifty-five days before they reach Freemantle. The ships left this port Sunday within a few minutes of each other.

JAP WITH BIG GUN MUST PAY $5 FINE

Justice of the Peace Geary, sitting in Police Court 2 today, imposed a fine of $5 on C. L. Masako, a Japanese restaurant man, who was arrested Saturday night with a big loaded revolver in his hip pocket. Masako permitted the butt end of the pistol to protrude from his pocket so that it was visible to others. This he considered as exempting him from conviction under the ordinance prohibiting the carrying of deadly weapons concealed on one's person.

However, Masako was adjudged guilty to the extent of $5. Whether or not he will appeal to Japanese authorities has not developed.

AGED WOMAN IS RELEASED ON BAIL

Mrs. Anne E. Babcock, who was arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace of George M. Thompson at 914 Magnolia street, gave $25 bail, and today her trial was set for August 7.

Thopmson says the woman had a habit of ringing his doorbell to annoy him, and when he installed an electric button, that Mrs. Babcock chopped it off with an ax. The accused is an elderly and very deaf person.

MINISTER GIVEN LONG TERM IN PENITENTIARY

In a letter from Sheriff Victor B. Furniss of Barry county, Mich., to Sheriff Frank Barnet, he states that W. D. Clark, the preacher who left Michigan with his wife's sister and escaped to Honolulu to evade an embezzlement charge, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to a term in the reformatory of Iowa for not less than five years and not more than fourteen years. In passing sentence on the minister, the Michigan jurist recommended him to serve seven years of his sentence. Clark was caught in Honolulu and brought to this country on the last trip of the Korea. Sheriff Furniss was awaiting him and hurried him east. Clark was sentenced on the third day after his arrival.

THIEVISH PRINCESS AND PALS GO FREE

BERLIN, July 15.—The case against Princess Ludmilla von Wrede, charged with thefts of silverware from various hotels and private residences in Berlin, Paris and Munich in the years 1903-06, will be called today in the criminal court at Guestrow, Mecklenburg. The public prosecutor will enter a nolle prossequi.

A commission of medical experts has found that at the time of the commission of the acts charged the Princess was a kleptomaniac. Charges of receiving stolen property were charged against her husband, Prince Adolph von Wrede, and her traveling companion, which will also be dismissed.

A butler in the employ of the family named Glase, who attempted to use his knowledge of the thefts to obtain a sum of money of the Princess, was recently sentenced to nine months' imprisonment for attempted blackmail.

FILLIBUSTER IS ARRESTED

Young Brazilian Taken In Tow at New York Charged With Hatching Plot.

NEW YORK, July 15.—An alleged attempt to finance a filibustering expedition with the ultimate purpose of overthrowing the "Superiro" government of the Minas Geraes, one of the federal states of Brazil, led last night to the arrest of a young man, who, according to the complaint, has introduced himself to prominent bankers and brokers here as Sebastine H. L. De Magall, a Brazilian.

De Magall is charged with violation of the United States postal law. The identity of the complainant is withheld.

PRINSONER IS YOUNG.

The prisoner who is but 22 years old, it is said, came to this city a few weeks ago and put himself in communication with parties who were likely to have money to invest. In a circular which the police claim to have found in his room at a boarding house, a plan is set forth for the invasion of the rich Brazilian state by an adventuresome band recruited elsewhere.

The circular explains that the author is the agent of the party in opposition in Minas Geraes, which party had resolved to adopt the only practical method of accomplishing the downfall of the present government.

CATHOLIC SOCIETIES HOLD BIG SESSION

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 15.—The sixth annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies held its first business session today following the celebration of solemn high mass at St. John's Cathedral. Three hundred delegates were in attendance, representing a membership of two million. The sessions are executive. President Edward Feeney, of Brooklyn, is presiding.

CATHOLIC WOMEN IN THROES OF ELECTION

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., July 15.—A majority of 1000 delegates to the third triennial convention of the Ladies' Catholic Benevolent Association gathered in this city today for the opening of the convention. The election of a supreme president to succeed Mrs. E. B. McGowan, who has held the office since the inception of the order seventeen years ago, has caused much discussion among the various branches of the organization and a close contest is expected. Mrs. McGowan is opposed to Miss M. C. Costello of Brooklyn and Miss Kate Mahoney of Troy, N. Y.

MERCHANT BELIEVES CONSPIRACY EXISTS

The charge of petty larceny against William Grull, based on the belief that he sold a customer goods for $2.50 and pocketed $1 of the amount, was today continued in Police Court No. 2.

Grull was employed in a tailoring establishment at 1062 Washington street, and it is the impression of his employers that an investigation may reveal that one or two other persons may have been implicated in holding out money received from customers.

A SCRIPTURAL GARDEN.

About a mile and a half from Ilkley, in the heart of a small wood, is an iron gate bearing the words, "Garden of Gethsemane and Mount Cavalry."

On entering the first thing that meets the eye is a board to which are fixed a crown of thorns, spear, nails, sponge, etc., as used in the crucifixion of Christ. Walking along an avenue of cypress and yew trees, of which the garden is chiefly composed, one sees at intervals open spaces, each containing a statue of one of the twelve apostles. At the end of this avenue is a huge mound on which are set up three crosses. Hanging to each are life size figures representing Christ and the two thieves.

Built in the side of this mound and underground is a stone cell to which, it is said, a late member of the Middleton family was wont to repair and there in perfect solitude and surrounded by emblems of the atonement to read and meditate over the Bible.

WHY HOGS SQUEALED.

Captain J. A. Lemcke had told a story. Paul H. Krauss told a little one. John S. Duncan then tried his art as a narrator. "It's a story of hogs," said Mr. Duncan, "hogs in Indiana, when that admirable animal, so necessary to progress and material prosperity, could be seen in every woods-pasture. A stranger on horseback riding along a country road, saw a lot of hogs acting in a strange way. These hogs would run here and there, first to one tree and then to another, in the greatest excitement. They would rub themselves against these trees and squeal and squeal as though possessed as were those hogs in Palestine that ran down into the sea.

"The stranger could not understand this at all. Never had he seen such porcine manifestations. Riding on a little further he came to a farmer in the road. 'Are them your hogs?' asked the traveler. 'What on airth's the matter with 'em?'

"'Wal,' said the farmer in a whisper. 'I'll tell ye. 'Long last fall I lost my voice and couldn't poor-ee to 'em to come to feed; so I took a club and pounded on a tree. This spring the woods is full of woodpeckers, and when they tap on the trees, d—n the birds, the hogs think they're going to be fed!'"—Indianapolis News.

IT VARIED.

Edwin Markham said of child labor, at a dinner in New York:

"And where we have a fair child-labor law, it is too often made null through the lies that the children's parents make them tell.

"A Norristown minister asked a poor, thin, pallid bobbin boy how old he was.

"'It depends,' the boy answered cautiously.

"'Depends?' said the minister. 'Depends on what?'

"'If I'm goin' on the train, I'm under 12; but if I'm lookin' for a job I'm over 14.'"

EGG HOLDS TWO GALLONS.

Recently there was exhibited in Liverpool an enormous egg, that of a tall, flightless bird, the Aepyornis maximus, which formerly made its home on the island of Madagascar. Only twenty of these mammoth eggs are known to be in existence, and they bring prices ranging from $175 to $300. Each egg is about a foot long and nearly a yard in circumference, and the shells will hold about two gallons of water.

Repairs were taking place at an English cathedral, and the dean, a very pompous clergyman, came in to see how the workmen were getting on. One of the men, a carpenter, took no notice of him, and the dean, who thought that the man should have lifted his cap respectively, said:

"Do you know, sir, that I am dean of this cathedral?"

"Are you really?" said the workman. "Pretty good job, too, I should think. [illegible]

JAMAICANS ARE STARVING

Insurance Companies Sued on Account of Kingston Earthquake.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, July 15.—A severe drought is causing starvation among the people on the plains of St. Elizabeth. In the western part of the island persons have been compelled to walk miles to procure water and now the people are subsisting only on bananas.

Fully one hundred actions have been filed against the British insurance companies on account of the earthquake disaster last January.

MAUDE ADAMS TO ACT AT THE GREEK THEATER

Final arrangements were made yesterday between the management of the Maude Adams company and the dramatic and musical committee of the University of California for the appearance of Maude Adams in the Greek Theater, Berkeley, in Rostand's "L'Aiglon," Saturday evening, July 27. This will be the only performance in this part of the country of this celebrated modern classic which tells the story of the pathetic career of the son of Napoleon the Great. It will also constitute Maude Adams' farewell appearance on the Pacific Coast. The occasion could only be arranged for by a cancellation of a part of Miss Adams' tour on the Pacific Coast. The entire affair, as usual, will be under the auspices of the university authorities. The precise staging of the play will be directed by Miss Adams' personal stage director, Gustav von Seyffertitz, late of the Irving Place Theater, New York. The bill during Maude Adams' engagement at the Macdonough Theater, Oakland, will be "Peter Pan" and "Quality Street."

Her portrayal of L'Aiglon, the Eaglet, fated son of Napoleon the Great, recently performed in San Francisco for the first time since its original New York production, is generally recognized as the most distinguished achievement in the stage career of Maude Adams. Physically and temperamently suited to the part, Miss Adams' interpretation is generally recognized as far and away the finest representation of the character ever seen in this part of the country. A coincidence worthy of note is in the fact that the last actress of national repute to perform "L'Aiglon" hereabouts was Sarah Bernhardt, who was also the last distinguished artist to act at the Greek Theater. To add to the coincidence, the play already obtained as an additional part of Maude Adams' repertoire for next year is a translation of "Les Bouffons" (The Buffoons), which is now being acted by Mme. Bernhardt at her theater in Paris. Announcement will be made shortly by the university authorities as to the prices and sale of tickets for Maude Adams' performance of "L'Aiglon" in the Greek Theater.

DELEGATES PRAISE GRAND PARLOR WORK

BERKELEY, July 15.—Delegates of Berkeley Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, who attended the Grand Parlor sessions at Watsonville, returned home last night. These were Mrs. Eleanor Middlehoff and Mrs. Anna Luhr.

Mrs. Luhr said today: "The meeting of the Grand Parlor at Watsonville was the most successful that has ever been given by the order. There was the largest representation ever known, and the work done will be of the greatest benefit to the organization. Among other things done was arranging for the observation of "Luther Burbank Day," which was set for March 13 of each year. The delegates were royally entertained by the people of Watsonville, automobiling and boat riding on the lake being among some of the features."

PROBATION OFFICER RUESS DISAGREES WITH JUDGE

COURTS OBJECT TO FREEING MAN

J. B. Skinner Is Sent to San Quentin for Year.

J. B. SKINNER.

"I believe in the probation law, but when it is poorly carried out a great deal of harm can be done," said Superior Judge Ellsworth this morning in denying probation to J. B. Skinner who confessed to a charge of forgery and who Probation Officer Ruess was seeking to have placed in his care for a term of years.

"While in many cases it works well," continued the court, "in as many others it is abused. If a man thought he could commit a crime and be let out on probation, it would be a tendency to increase crime instead of preventing it. When a man knows that there is a term in the county jail or State's Prison to be meted out to him if he is caught, he will think twice sometimes before going wrong. In this case there is nothing to warrant the court in allowing this defendant to be released on probation."

"Judging from his past there is not much hope for him," said District Attorney Brown, after reading the lengthy report of Probation Officer Ruess.

KNEW LITTLE OF SKINNER.

Ruess thought there was hope in making a reformer out of Skinner, but the court and prosecuting authorities said there was no reason why he should not be sent to the penitentiary as any other offender. J. C. McCann, Skinner's brother-in-law said he knew little of his relative during the past several years.

Skinner made an attempt at evading sentence by having his case continued for another week, but Brown objected and asked Judge Ellsworth to pass judgment on the defendant. In view of the attempts at probation and the interest shown by his relatives, Judge Ellsworth let Skinner off with one year's imprisonment in the penitentiary at San Quentin. Skinner was working in a tailor shop, when he found a check, so he says, and indorsing his name on the back of it, obtained $15 from J. Meilette of 851 Washington street. The check was drawn on the Oakland Bank of Savings.

COUNTY GETS $5000 FROM W. R. HEARST FOR ROAD

Supervisors Express Their Gratitude to Former Congressman for His Generous and Timely Gift.

Substantial proof of the liberality and devotion to Alameda county of William R. Hearst, the well-known newspaper man, was given this morning before the Board of Supervisors where Supervisor Horner announced that that gentleman had offered to donate $5000 toward the expense of putting into proper condition a road running through Dublin and Palomares road districts and connecting with the main highway which leads from Pleasanton to the Hacienda del Poso de Verona, the palatial home of Mrs. Phoebe Hearst.

ROAD IN BAD SHAPE.

"The road has been oiled, but the oil has been a failure," said Supervisor Horner, "and the heavy traffic has cut it into ruts. I think we ought to have the county surveyor go out there and make a new survey of the road and see if there is not some way by which we can get water onto it.

"Mr. Hearst said he hoped that the road could be improved, and I told him of the difficulty in the way of the small amount of money in the road district funds, and he said he would give $5000 toward improving the road, and if this should not be enough to put the road in proper shape he would give some more next year.

GRATEFUL TO HEARST.

"I think the Board should be very grateful to Mr. Hearst for his liberality. I move that the donation be accepted, that a vote of thanks be extended to Mr. Hearst, that the county surveyor make a new survey of the road and that the improvement be put under way immediately."

Mr. Horner's motion was carried unanimously.

Part of the road in question lies in the district of Supervisor Bridge and part in the district of Supervisor Horner.

Supervisor Bridge heartily seconded the proposition of Mr. Horner.

With the donation of Mr. Hearst there will be about $6200 available for the proposed improvement.
